ATTITUDE ON REPARATIONS IS APPROVED

Premier Given Vote of Confidence by House of Commons; Refuses to Censure Policy of Government.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The House of Commons today defeated the amendment to the reply to the speech from the throne proposed by Horatio Bottomley, censuring the government's policy with regard to the Treaty of Versailles. The vote was 181 to 40.

Premier Lloyd George declared in the House of Commons today that he stood by his pledge that Germany must pay to the limit of her capacity.

ANSWERS BOTTOMLEY.

The Prime Minister was discussing the German reparations question in answering Horatio Bottomley's arraignment of the government's policy of alleged ineptitude in regard to forcing Germany to comply with the reparations demands, the provision for the trial of war criminals and other portions of the peace treaty.

The Allies continued the Premier, had taken the best advance available and had summoned the ablest men to be found, upon whose advice the present demands had been made, and the Allies were carrying out the peace terms to the utmost of their power.

Germany, he pointed out, had delivered bonds to the Allies, but the value of these bonds depended upon the value of the German security at the present moment. Raw materials, ships, property of other sort, and coal, also had been delivered, added the Premier, and the question was what was their value.

MUCH DELIVERED.

The Germans argued, continued Lloyd George, that if the Allies took the value of the raw material at the time it was delivered, the sum amounted to more than the 20,000,000,000 marks named in the peace treaty. The Allies contended that the sum was less than this, and the matter was one that the reparations commission was examining. Even according to the Allied accounting, he said, it was a matter of hundreds of millions of pounds sterling which had been delivered.

SENATE IN WORK MOOD

Three Appropriation Bills Passed.

House Also Feels Ambitious, Promises to Expedite Conference Actions.

Measures Increased Over Representatives' Totals by $145,000,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—By the passage in six hours today of three annual appropriation bills aggregating more than $860,000,000, the Senate demonstrated its ability to work, when in the mood.

Appropriation bills were given a clear field in the effort to pass all of the regular supply measures by March 4, as requested by President-elect Harding.

The three bills passed today were the postoffice budget, carrying $574,000,000; the annual diplomatic and consular bill, totaling $10,400,000 in the appropriations, and the $276,000,000 deficiency measure. Senate amendments increased the three bills about $145,000,000 over totals voted by the House, which still necessitate adjustments in conference.

The House Representatives agreed today to aid Senate leaders in expediting conference action.

HAS SIX TO PASS.

All except one of the appropriation bills had passed the House tonight, but the Senate still has to pass six; the Army, Navy, agriculture, rivers and harbors, fortifications and general deficiency measures. Only two of the regular supply bills, the annual pension roll and the District of Columbia budget, have been completed by both bodies of Congress and sent to President Wilson. Some Republican leaders express hopes of enacting all of the appropriation measures before adjournment, but other have abandoned hope of passing the Navy budget and possibly the Army bill. Hearings on the Navy bill were begun today and the Army bill will be reported out of committee early next week.

In the three money bills passed today by the Senate most of the appropriations were routine and droned through by reading clerks with little discussion. Passage of the postoffice bill was marked by rejection of a proposed rider to appropriate $100,0000,000 for the Federal road building fund.

ACCEPT MORGAN OFFER

The diplomatic bill carried provisions authorizing acceptance of J. Pierpont Morgan's home in London for an American Embassy, for indefinite extension of the system of requiring vise by American consular officers abroad of emigrants' passports and for creating a commission to acquire embassy, legation and consular buildings in fourteen foreign capitals.

Among the items in the deficiency bill as passed was an increase from $1,000,000 to $1,450,000 in the prohibition enforcement fund and $65,575,000 for payment to the railroad administration of mail transportation accounts.

IN THE HOUSE.

Supporters of the Fordney emergency tariff bill will move tomorrow to send the measure to conference on the Senate amendments. House leaders having agreed today to clear the parliamentary paths.

Chairman Campbell of the Rules Committee said today after going over the ground with Representative Mondell, Republican floor leader, that he saw no hindrance to putting through the special rule which will be requested.

"I believe the turning point was reached when Caruso first saw his son," said Zirato. "The boy's smile, coming at the psychological moment, inspired his father with a new will to live."

But Enrico did not have his father to himself. Gloria, 14 months old today, was taken into the singer's room and delighted her father with a new word she had added to her baby talk.

First a shave and then the first solid food the patient has eaten since the beginning of the heart attack which followed pleurisy—these were the chief entries on the sickroom log today. There were several callers this afternoon, but none was admitted to the sickroom.

It was announced late today another official bulletin will be issued at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, when another consultation will be held.

Python Finishes Giant Rat When Ship Crew Fails.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—For two days a giant rat took possession of the cabin of Mrs. Ethel Ross, a passenger on the steamer Santa Cruz, which arrived here today, and resisted all efforts to dislodge it. Attacks by members of the crew armed with clubs, and an attempt to flood the cabin, were unavailing and the rat made counter-attacks on those who sought to oust him.

Finally a twenty-four-foot python belonging to F. H. Buck, a menagerie man on board, was allowed to enter the cabin, and the rat departed the cabin and this life simultaneously.

RAIL EXECUTIVES FIRM.

Refuse to Enter National Agreement Conferences With Workers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—The Association of Railway Executives at its meeting today unanimously adopted the report of its labor committee and resolutions refusing to enter into national confesences suggested by the employees as a means of settling differences over wages of unskilled labor and working conditions.

The committee report pointed out that the opposition made by the roads to the national agreements and the position taken today was not to be construed as an attack on labor organizations themselves.

"What we have been trying to do, and all that we have been trying to do," the report said, "is to get the opportunity to deal with our own employees so as to restore the efficiency of labor on railroads, and, if possible, avoid nonemployment and defer serious wage reductions.

ISSUE IS RAISED.

"The leaders of the labor unions by the position they have taken have directly raised the issue whether the maintenance and increase of the power of the national labor unions shall be placed above the public interest in the efficient and economical operation of our transportation."

B. M. Jewell, chairman of the railway labor department of the American Federation of Labor, asked the Railway Labor Board Thursday to refer the national agreements and the question of wages of unskilled labor to a national joint conference of railway heads and representatives of the labor unions. After referring to this demand and the statement made by Frank P. Walsh before the board that the unions might find it necessary to make "an earnest effort to prevent Congress enacting into law pending legislation for the financial relief of railroads," the report said:

PLIGHT OF ROADS.

"The railroads are thus confronted with this situation; While endeavoring to escape from one set of rigid and uniform rules and working conditions inherited from the war, they are met with a new demand, which, if acquiesced in by the labor board, may deprive individual carriers of direct negotiation

NOTED BANDIT IS SHOT.

Cinema May Never Get Henry Starr, the Famous Oklahoma Outlaw.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HARRISON (Ark.) Feb. 18.—A Sheriff's posse tonight was seeking the two companions of Henry Starr, notorious bank robber of Oklahoma, who was seriously wounded in an attempt to rob the People's State Bank of Harrison today.

Starr lies on a bed in the County Jail here in a serious condition, but with possibility of recovery, according to physicians.

The last report from the posse said the other men had not been captured. Following the attempted robbery they escaped in an automobile and were followed for several miles south of Harrison, when they set fire to their machine and dashed into the woods.

Starr refused to give any information as to the identity of his companions.

BANDIT TRAP WORKS.

Starr was shot from the bank vault by W. J. Myers, former president of the bank and a stockholder. Myers walked into the bank during the hold-up and was ordered into the vault. He complied, but grasped a rifle secreted in the vault and protected by the darkness of the recess, opened fire on Starr.

Shot through the body just below the heart, Starr fell and his companions fled. No money was obtained by the escaped bandits.

His wounding was the result of the setting of a "bandit trap" twelve years ago by Myers, who is 63 years old. He had a rear door built into the vault then, "just in case anybody should try to rob us, we would have a way out" he told his employees. A loaded rifle has been kept in a corner of the vault since that time.

Myers made use of his trap for the first time when he shot Starr today.

POLICY OF WILSON IS DEFENDED.

Stand on Russia Will be Vindicated, Says Davis; Few Follow Reds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Wilson administration's policy with regard to Russia will be vindicated when a responsible government is established in that country and will result in Americans obtaining a vast amount of Russian trade, Undersecretary of State Davis predicted today before the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Mr. Davis told the committee that two-thirds of Russia did not recognize the Bolsheviki and that only 600,000 Russians were professed Communists.

Discussing Great Britain's Russian policy, Mr. Davis said the idea that that country, by entering into a trade agreement with the Lenine government, would gobble up Russian markets, was "all bunk." England, he added, is attempting to stop the spread of Bolshevism, rather than increase its trade opportunities.

Mr. Davis said it would be a mistake for American firms to accept Russian gold, the title to which is in doubt, because with this gold gone a stable government later would be unable to establish credit for the purchase of supplies needed for rehabilitation of the country.

Newest Outrage of Sinn Feiners Proves Failure.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUBLIN, Feb. 18.—It is officially announced that the tracks of a railway line in County Donegal on Wednesday were diverted from the permanent way to run into a lake between Cashelnagor and Gweendore. The outrage was discovered, however, before a mishap occurred.

Today's official review says the report of outrages in the last week affords grounds for satisfaction. The greatly reduced number of casualties to crown forces, it adds, leads to the opinion that the recent lawless activites have reached the maximum and the arrests and seizures being made daily should result in a sensible improvement in the situation shortly.

He was sent to an asylum.

RUMANIA, CZECHO-SLOVAKIA ALSO MAY JOIN; PUT WEDGE BETWEEN REDS AND GERMANY

BY RALPH COURTNEY.
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Feb. 18.—France has decided to publish the substance of the conversations that took place recently between representatives of the French and Polish governments on the occasion of President Pilsudski's recent visit to Paris. France will be shown by the documents to have taken Poland definitely under her protection.

On the one hand there is an agreement giving France valuable concessions in Poland and safeguarding her commercial interests there. On the other hand there is the military understanding. Franco-Polish military accord will be alluded to, although the exact text of neither this nor the commercial agreement is likely to be made public.

However, henceforth France and Poland are military allies. The part of France's continental policy in which Poland plays a prominent part consists of an extension of the Franco-Polish alliance to Rumania and Czecho-Slovakia.

Dr. Benes, the Czech Foreign Minister, has just concluded a visit here. Prince Sapieha, the Polish Foreign Minister, is meanwhile in Bucharest conversing with representatives of the Rumanian government. It is understood that the finishing touches have now been put to an agreement between Poland and Rumania, which, for some time has been practically an accomplished fact.

As for Czecho-Slovakia, good progress has been made toward bringing her into the alliance. France's continental policy is directed chiefly toward the Bolsheviki and her intention is to prevent a junction of the Bolsheviki and her other enemy, Germany. The negotiations with the Prague government have been long and difficult. The Czechs, on the one hand, are not as strongly anti-Bolshevik as are Poland and Rumania, and on the other hand they have a natural inclination to fear the Russians. The dispute between Czecho-Slovakia and Poland over Teschen also has hindered the understanding between those two countries, which France wants to bring about.

CZECHS LUKEWARM.

Nevertheless, considerable progress is said to have been made in the negotiations. The Czechs are not willing to go so far as to agree to in-

Minnesota Governor Calls Attention to New Accident in Message to Nelson.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. PAUL, Feb. 18.—Discontinuance of the air mail service until the investigations being conducted in regard to the service are concluded was urged in a telegram sent to Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota at Washington by Gov. Preus tonight. The telegram was sent after an air mail flier narrowly escaped death near Mendota today.

"Today there was another accident near Mendota in the air mail service," said the Governor's telegram. "Four men now have been killed, and but for the presence of mind in this case, the pilot, who dropped 5000 feet to the ground in a parachute and escaped, we would have had another fatal accident today.

"I do not believe the air mail service is so absolutely necessary as to risk the lives of so many young boys in substandard airplanes, and I would strongly urge that you ask the Postmaster-General to discontinue this service until the investigations which are being conducted in regard to it may have been concluded."

BOYDEN ORDERED HOME.

American Unofficial Representative Quits Reparations Commission.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Feb. 18.—The United States government tomorrow will deliver to the reparations commission a declaration explaining the government's withdrawal of its representative from the commission.

The statement of withdrawal, which will be delivered by Roland W. Boyden of Beverly, Mass., who represented the United States at the Brussels financial congress in 1920, and who is now withdrawn, will involve also the departure of about twenty other Americans who are on subcommissions. The statement to be presented will say:

LONG HESITATION.

"I am instructed by my government to announce the retirement of its unofficial representatives from the reparations commission. This decision has been reached only after long hesitation and careful consideration. All representation on the commission was in the beginning unofficial, in anticipation of ratifications of the Treaty of Versailles by the signatory powers.

"The other powers have ratified and their representation has long become official. The United States has not ratified and as time has passed its unofficial representation on the commission gradually has become anomalous.

"My government, under the foregoing condkions, has felt itself unable to co-operate with the Allied powers at Brussels and elsewhere in the preparation of plans which seem to involve a change in the treaty. It realizes fully the great difficulty of these problems and recognizes the value of unified action; but as it cannot at present take part in such a discussion or even express any views upon the subject discussed, it feels that it is undesirable to retain even unofficial representation on a commission that is likely to be charged with the execution of such plans.

SINCERE APPRECIATION.

"My government instructs me further to express its sincere appreciation for the many courtesies which the commission and its members have shown the United States and its unofficial representatives."

Maj. Boyden today told the Associated Press that naturally he could not comment on his government's instructions for withdrawal, but that he could testify to the fullest extent to his great respect for the character, devotion and ability of the men who had served on the commission.

"We shall always be thankful that it has been our privilege to take even an unofficial and modest part in the commission's work," he added.

COAST SHIPS TO BE HELD

Withdrawal from Service Refused.

Shipping Board Acts on Request Over Atlantic to Pacific Steamers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Withdrawal of government vessels allocated to the North Atlantic and Western Steamship Company for service between the Atlantic and Pacific Coast was refused today by the Shipping Board.

Operation of five Shipping Board vessels in the intercoastal trade by the North Atlantic and Western Company was protested recently by Harris Livermore of New York, president of the United American Lines, on behalf of his company and the Lackenbach Company on the ground that competition between government-owned and privately controlled vessels was injurious to the upbuilding of the American merchant marine.

THREAT IS MADE.

Previous to the hearings, A. Harriman, head of the American ship and Commerce Corporation, in an address in New York, intimated that unless the government-owned tonnage was withdrawn, his corporation might help the agreement between the competing coast-to-coast steamship lines covering freight rates.

The board today held that the North Atlantic and Western Company established the first line operating out of the port of Boston and serving that territory to Pacific Coast ports, and for a time was the only line operating between Atlantic Coast ports and North Pacific Coast ports.

The board also declared that a discontinuance of that line and service would only be justified if it should be found that continued maintenance and operation was "unbusinesslike and against the public interest."

SERVICE NOT DISTURBED.

The Transportation Act, officials of the board said, provided that services in operation prior to the enactment of that law should not be disturbed by the board. The North Atlantic and Western Company, it was said, established its lines prior to June 5, 1920, when the Jones Act became law.

The board, however, issued an administrative ruling which declared "where the business on a particular trade route is adequately served by citizens of the United States, privately-owned ships under American registry, or by government-owned ships in the hands of private operators under reasonable rates and conditions and free from unjust and undue discriminations or preferences, it is the policy of the United States Shipping Board not to establish or encourage the establishment of competing service on such route."

Under present conditions, Chairman Benson said, shipments can be made directly from Boston or Philadelphia to the Pacific Coast, which is in line with the board's policy of building up the business of the various different ports of the country.

EGYPT'S CLAIMS ARE RECOGNIZED

Parliament Receives Report of Lord Milner.

Declares for Self-Government Without Delay.

Great Misfortune of Opportunity is Lost.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Negotiations with the Egyptian government for the conclusion of a treaty according self-government to Egypt are strongly advised in a long-awaited report by Lord Milner, former Colonial Secretary, on the Egyptian question, presented to Parliament today.

The negotiations should be entered upon by the British government without undue delay, Lord Milner declares.

PROTECTION OF RIGHTS.

The self-government grant, according to recommendations of the report, would be accompanied by the necessary reservations upholding the essential British interests and protecting the rights of foreign residents.

The report expresses the opinion that it would be a great misfortune if the present opportunity were lost. "A fulfillment of the promise of self-government cannot be postponed," he says. "The spirit of nationalist Egypt cannot be extinguished and an attempt to govern the country in the teeth of a hostile people is a difficult and disgraceful task.

"There are formidable difficulties, however, in a sudden and complete transfer of all power of government to Egyptian hands," adds the document. "It is essential to insure that independent Egypt does not pursue a foreign policy hostile or prejudicial to the interests of the British empire.

"It is also imperative to insure the safety and protect the rights of foreign residents.

GOOD PROSPECTS.

"We hold that in fact, as well as in theory, Egypt should be governed by Egyptians. We have sufficient faith in the reform work of the last forty years to believe such a course now can be followed with good prospects of success, but it must be adopted wholeheartedly, and in a spirit of hopefulness and sympathy.

"We do not attempt to conceal our conviction that Egypt is not yet in a position to dispense with British assistance in her internal administration."

Viscount Milner, who retired recently as Secretary for the Colonies, went in person to Egypt last spring, heading a commission of inquiry.

The British protectorate over Egypt, declared in 1914, has been bitterly resisted for some time past by the Egyptian nationalists, and numerous disorders and outrages have been an outgrowth of this situation. The Milner plan seemed to meet with favor at the outset, but later met with obstacles, and it has been reported that Lord Milner's recent retirement from the Cabinet was largely, if not solely, due to differences with colleagues over the Egyptian policy.

REACHES FEVER PITCH.

A resolution embodying many of these questions and specifying them as the "program work" for the new organization, was introduced as an amendment to the majority report by Miss Crystal Eastman of New York. It was defeated by a vote of 170 to 95, after extended discussions, which reached fever pitch at times. In its place the convention adopted the conservative statement of the majority report, declaring merely that "the immediate work of the new organization be the removal of the legal disabilities of women."

Other provisions of the report, as adopted, were:

"That the National Woman's party, having accomplished the object for which it was organized, now disband.

"That a new organization be created and its executive committee be empowered to dispose of all property of the National Woman's party.

"That the political enfranchisement of women having been won in the United States, this new organization work for the equality of women and see that such equality be won and maintained in any association of nations that may be established."

Later a temporary constitution, was drafted by Mrs. Donald R. Hooker, Baltimore, Md., and adopted. It differed from the old constitution only as the purposes of the organization made necessary and provided for the maintenance of the organization's chapters throughout the country.

The convention adjourned after dinner and ceremonies were held in honor of the members who had served as "pickets" in the days when the suffragists besieged the White House and other public buildings in search of support for the Susan B. Anthony amendment. Many of the "pickets" had served jail sentences and proudly displayed their records as they passed by in the line to-night to receive the organization's "distinguished service medal" for past services.

The new organization unanimously elected the National Council, which includes:

Mrs. Willian Kent, Miss Gail Laughlin and Miss Maud Younger, all of California; Miss Anne Martin of Nevada; Mrs. O. H. P. WICKER CHAIR MUTE WITNESS.

Plays Important Part in West Virginia Murder Cases.

Boy Held for Theft of $14,500 in Securities.

Perjury Warrant for Bay City Girls is Refused.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WILLIAMSON (W. Va.) Feb. 18. A wicker chair, with an alleged bullet hole through the back, played an important part in the Matewan battle trial here today. J. W. Ferguson, one of the seven Baldwin-Felts detectives killed in the fight, rested in the chair on the back porch of Mrs. Mary Duty's home before he was killed, several witnesses testified.

Capt. Avis, for the State, introduced the wicker chair as an exhibit. Pointing to the hole in the back, he said he intended to prove that the wounded man had been shot again and killed after being taken to the Duty home.

Sid Hatfield, Matewan Chief of Police, told Harry Staton, a former justice of the peace, that he had killed three of the Baldwin-Felts men in the pistol and rifle fight at Matewan, May 19, Staton testified today at the trial of nineteen men, including Hatfield, charged with being implicated in the fight. Staton said the men were Albert Felts, Lee Felts and C. B. Cunningham.

"It was one roar," Miss Bessie Hamilton, another witness, described the shooting. Afterward, she said, she saw three bodies lying in the street. Two of them, she testified, were searched by Sid Hatfield. Later Miss Hamilton said she saw Hatfield "kick" the body of a detective.

BOY HELD FOR THEFT.

SPOKANE (Wash.) Feb. 18.—Elliott Wood Michener, age 14, arrested at Northport, Wash., today charged with theft of Liberty Bonds and certificates valued at $14,500 from the trunk of his father, C. B. Michener at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, last Tuesday, tonight was held in jail under guard pending arrival of authorities from Idaho. Bonds and certificates worth $14,500 were found on the lad when taken into custody.

The alleged theft of his father's securities is said by the police to be the boy's second offense. Last fall at Philadelphia he is declared to have departed from the Baldwin Locomotive Works with $4200 cash while he was employed as an errand boy. Two weeks later he was arrested in New York and $3600 was recovered. He was then paroled to the custody of his father at Coeur d'Alene. At Philadelphia he lived with his mother.

DENIES PERJURY WARRANTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—An application for perjury warrants for Miss Jessie Montgomery and Miss Jean Stanley, complaining witnesses against Thomas Brady, convicted of an attack on Miss Stanley, was denied today by Police Judge Daniel S. O'Brien. He held that no sufficient showing had been made for the issuance of the warrants.

The warrants had been asked for on the basis of affidavits by a policewoman, a deputy sheriff, former Assistant District Attorney and others that the girls admitted that they had perjured themselves and had expressed sympathy for the defendant.

"What the girls said on the stand should be held to be more truthful than anything they said afterward," Judge O'Brien said.

FREED OF MURDER CHARGE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Feb. 18.—Judge William H. McGannon was acquitted of a second-degree murder charge in connection with the death of Harold C. Kagy by a jury today.

The jury was out twenty-one hours and reached a verdict of the ninth ballot.

This was the second trial of Judge McGannon for the slaying of Kagy on the morning of May 8, last. The first jury disagreed.

ROBBER SUSPECTS HELD.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) Feb. 18.—Detectives early today arrested two suspects, one man and a woman, here in connection with the robbery of the Blue Ridge (Tex.) State Bank, February 15, when R. L. Kirby, bank teller, was beaten to death with an iron bar and $3500 was stolen. Sheriff Binford rushed the prisoners out of town to prevent a lynching attempt.

vade Russia in the event of war between the soviets and Poland and Rumania. But they are understood to have consented to hold the Carpathian passes against any Bolshevik military sweep westward. They also have agreed to support the Poles as against a western power such as Germany.

This arrangement, if confirmed, will be of the greatest importance to Euorpe and to the world, in the opinion of French observers. Without the help of Czecho-Slovakia the Bolsheviki could always invade Central Europe by turning the Polish front in the south.

The French General Staff has made a most minute study of methods of defending Europe. They regard the position of Czecho-Slovakia as strategic and absolutely essential to the plan now formulated.

TRAINING FRENCH ARMY.

France not only has taken the Polish army in hand, but has placed many officers with the Czecho-Slovak military organization. The generalissimo of the Czech forces is Gen. Mittelhauser, a Frenchman. Recent reports say that the Czech military machine has been much improved under French tutelage.

It is believed in Paris that in case the Germans have decided to resist the Allied reparation and disarmament demands, they are relying in large measure on armed support from the Bolsheviki and a general Red invasion. In such an event, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia and Rumania would be immediately supported by the French in a great wedge which Foch plans to drive along the valley of the Main, through Frankfort and Wurzburg to the border of Czecho-Slovakia.

If the London conference fails and military operation is found necessary French observers believe they will be on an enormous scale and of a nature that will again change the map of Europe.

CENTRAL RUSSIA'S MILLIONS ARE STARVING AND FREEZING; RED PAPER ADMITS FAILURE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—A description of apparently serious conditions in Russia under the Bolshevik administration, as taken from soviet newspapers and other documents, is given in a statement issued today by A. J. Sack, director of the Russian information bureau in the United States. The official Bolshevik Investia of December 20, last, contains the text of a speech by Trotzky before the eighth congress of soviets, in which he declared:

"At present 36,000 miles of Russian railroads are destroyed, so that only the central part remains intact. Three thousand bridges and 16,000 telephone and telegraph lines also have been destroyed, and we have about 61 per cent of sick locomotives."

The statement says that not less than 30,000,000 persons are starving this winter along the Volga region and in other provinces of Central Russia.

The Russian paper Economic Life says that "News is already beginning to reach us from the central provinces of famine having set in among the people, and about the wholesale extermination of cattle for lack of fodder."

A Bolshevik commissary, Bogusiavsky, writing in the official Pravda, says: "The workingmen are without footwear and rubbers, and even without as much as a needle. Truly, they are living much worse than they did before. We are bound to admit that the soviet power has failed to do for them the most indispensable things."

The statement declares that popular revolts against Bolshevik rule are taking place. An anti-Bolshevik "green army," composed mostly of peasants, is reported to be operating in Southern Russia. The revolts are being suppressed with the utmost cruelty. A proclamation issued by an "extraordinary commission" in Southern Russia threatens that all risings against the Bolsheviki will be suppressed with implacable severity, and declares that all those aiding or concealing members of "white" or "green" armies will be shot and their property confiscated.

FINAL FLING AT CONGRESS.

Assistant Secretary of Treasury Charges Gross Extravagance.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—With more punch than harmony in its swan song, the Wilson administration slammed back hard today at the element in Congress which has been accusing the Executive of gross extravagance and bragging of the economies forced upon the departments.

In a statement sanctioned by the administration, S. P. Gilbert, assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of fiscal affairs, asserted that while $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 might be saved in the expense of administration without impairing efficiency, Congress has voted more than $1,000,000,000 chiefly in subsidies to private business and agriculture, and has attempted to conceal that fact from the taxpayers. At the rate Congress is squandering money he doubts that $4,000,000,000 of revenue a year will foot the bills for some time to come.

LOANS TO RAILROADS.

"Under the Transportation Act," said Gilbert, "provision was made for a $300,000,000 revolving fund for loans to railroads at less than the market rate. The same act guaranteed to the railroads a standard return during the period of six months after the end of Federal control. This guaranty may take as much as $650,000,000 out of the Treasury.

"Congress has recently revived the War Finance Corporation in order to make available to the export trade the funds of that corporation, which represent either the proceeds of the Treasury's subscription for its $500,000,000 of capital stock or the proceeds of borrowing by the corporation on what would be substantially the government's credit.

"A provision has been inserted in a pending bill to authorize the purchase of $200,000,000 of Federal land bank bonds in order to make what are substantially government loans to farmers. Notwithstanding the talk about economy it seems to be expected that the bill will pass. In fact, the only discussion up to date has been directed to the question of whether or not $200,000,000 in the years 1921 and 1922 will be sufficient for the purpose. It is of vital importance to avoid further drafts of this character upon the public treasury. The government cannot continue indefinitely to finance private business at public expense. The demand of the hour is for less government interference with business.

VICIOUS PRACTICES.

"In the second place it is absolutely essential that for the future the Congress should authorize expenditures by direct and specific appropriations as contemplated by the Constitution. This means that practices which will take money from the Treasury by indefinite or revolving fund appropriations must be strictly avoided.

"However necessary these practices may have been during the war they are utterly vicious in peace time. Among other things they are almost perfectly calculated to conceal even the fact of an appropriation, no matter how much money is actually spent. By means of indirect and indefinite appropriations of this character hundreds of millions are spent which if a direct appropriation were necessary could never be authorized.

"The estimates for the current year, for example, show that over a billion dollars of expenditures were authorized by the last session of Congress in addition to the amounts shown in the usual compiled statements of appropriations. In fact the practice has reached such proportions as to be a national scandal and it was vigorously denounced in the President's last annual message.

"It has become the first principle of strategy on the part of the people interested in appropriations for various special purposes to frame the matter so as to authorize the use of the public funds indirectly or in indefinite terms or by authorizations for expenditure of unexpended balances, perhaps appropriated originally for other purposes or by authorizations to divert government receipts before they ever reach the treasury.

GENERAL WORDS.

"Efforts are made to find general words which do not speak in terms of appropriations and cannot be readily calculated. The last session of the present Congress, for example, authorized additional expenditures out of balances of prior appropriations and from receipts to the amount of over $500,000,000, including over $400,000,000 for the Shipping Board.

"The present session of Congress by similar procedure takes credit for refusing appropriations for the Shipping Board but, at the same time, proposes to authorize the expenditure of receipts in amounts that may reach as high as $200,000,000.

"By the indefinite appropriation for the railroad guaranty about $650,000,000 was in effect appropriated without appearing in any of the statements of appropriations.

"I may add that because of the terms of the guaranty substantially the whole burden of the retroactive wage decision of the Railroad Labor Board fell upon the treasury. With a rate decision which could become effective only after the expiration of the guaranty period and extraordinary operating deficits during the period the total amount involved under the railroad guaranty increased from the $250,000,000 or thereabouts which Congress thought it was authorizing when it passed the Transportation Act to perhaps $650,000,000, an added burden of $400,000,000."

RAILROAD HEADS STANDING FIRM.

CHARGE ANSWERED.

Replying to statements by labor leaders that the railroads' suggestion to abrogate the national agreements was part of a plot originating in Wall street to break down on labor organizations, the report said the record of the proceedings showed that the roads "began their opposition immediately after the transportation system was returned to private ownership when production was at its height, when the demand for labor in all lines exceeded the supply, and before the so-called 'open shop' movement in other industries began."

"The record demonstrates," the report said, "that the railways have acted throughout independently, primarily in their own interests, but also in the interests of the shippers and the farmers."

GUIDING PRINCIPLES.

One resolution adopted said that the fundamental principles which should guide the roads in the relations with their employees were:

"(1.) That the conduct of modern transportation is a great cooperative enterprise requiring for its highest success the honest and loyal co-operation of employer and employee.

"(2.) That Section 301 of the Transportation Act requiring every reasonable effort and conference and negotiations between each carrier and its own employees to avoid disputes which might result in interruptions to traffic should be complied with in spirit and letter.

MUST ACT INDIVIDUALLY.

"(3.) That one of the great advantages of private over government ownership and operation of railroad lines lies in the greater adaptability of individual roads to the geographical, social economic and operating conditions which vary greatly with different portions of the country and that for this reason railroads cannot deal with their employees in national conferences, but must act individually.

"(4.) That the restoration and maintenance of this variation is essential to private ownership.

"(5.) That it is in opposition to sound public policy to require all railroads to operate under rigid and uniform rules and working conditions, because it prevents economical operation and results in injury to other industries and to farmers and stock raisers, who are brought into competition with the railways for labor.

"(6.) That under normal conditions the adjustment of these differences cannot be made the subject of national conferences, as that implies by its very nature a violation of the differing needs of the railroads and the territories they serve.

CLEAR-CUT ISSUE.

"(7.) That any insistence by leaders of railway labor organizations that their claims to recognition shall be admitted in violation of the foregoing principles can only result in precipitating a clear-cut issue between the public conditions essential to efficient and economical railroad operation and the alleged interests of railway employees in standard and uniform wages and working conditions regardless of the differing needs of the various railroads and of the widely differing character, needs and resources of the various parts of the country, which they serve."

Concerning future action by the executives, the committee report simply advised them that the decision of the labor board in regard to rates of pay for unskilled labor "relegates the initiation of action upon this matter to the individual railways and their own employees."

The board postponed until March 1 further hearings over the national agreements, and also granted the request of Mr. Jewell that he be granted until March 1 to prepare rebuttal evidence. The board announced, however, that it reserved the right to issue further orders or directions.

On March 1 the board will take up evidence presented by the following organizations, in the order named: Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees; the clerks; firemen and oilers; signal men.

E. S. Grable, president of the maintenance of way employees' organization, petitioned the board for a statement explaining to railway workers that pay reductions cannot be forced on them until new rates have been established by law.

UNIONS FIGHTING.

Strife between seven independent railroad employees' organizations and the union brotherhoods broke out again today before the board, in charges by the independents of attempts to control labor representation before the board.

Speaking for the independents, J. L. Eldridge, vice-president of the Railroad Yardmasters of America, said the collective bargaining proposal presented by the unions to the board yesterday was another attempt to obtain recognition that the unions were the only representatives of the employees.

HOME RULE ACT CAUSES WORRY.

Ulsterite Stands in the Way of Action.

Nationalists may Not Go to Polls.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

DUBLIN, Jan. 30. — British de to apply the newly-passed home-rule bill has injected new complexities into the Irish. im- portant as the big questions of the day whether conditions in Ireland are too chaotic to make the experiment of an elec- tion and whether the electors in Ulster will refuse to vote.

The Ulster problem in Ulster is the Nationalist minority refuses to accept the Home Rule bill that give full sway to the views of whom Sir Edward Car- son has been leader (since suc- ceeded by Sir James Craig.) These are the dominant issues on which the country is speculating.

PREPARE TO ACT.

Preparations for the application of the bill in Northern reland are in an advanced stage. There it is to be put in force at the earliest pos- sible date. The splendid old City Hall will be placed at the disposal of the new Northern Government, eliminating any delay in the erection of a Parliament House. It is stated that the Carson adher- ents have a working majority, which will depend on the ex- tent to which the Nationalists in the three Ulster, dissatisfied with the Bill, keep from the rest of Ire- land by the polls.

The Ulster vote in proportion to their numbers they will form somewhat more than half of the membership of the new body. The Carsonites have given virtual carte blanche to boycott the elec- tions of the Nationalists and will not prevent the Parlia- ment functioning.

In the south, there are two main schools of opinion in official and political circles. The one which ap- pears predominate is in favor of letting the south make a trial of the act at the same time as the north. The other view is that in the south the time for attempted application of the act is inopportune.

From several sources feelers are being put forth in the endeavor to bring out candidates for the south- ern Legislature. Men of moderate opinion are being asked to offer themselves. The letter of Lord Decies, announcing his candidacy, is considered likely to stimulate willingness among moderate home rulers to accept office.

The Farmers' Union has an- nounced that it does not intend to put forward any candidates. But individual farmers have repudiated its claim to speak for the general body, and contend farmers should take advantage of the opportunity offered them.

The old Irish Parliamentary party has made no move, and its mem- bers seem indisposed to run counter to Sinn Fein sentiment.

The Home Rule Act provides that it shall come into operation on "the appointed day," which is defined as "the first Tuesday in the eighth month after the month in which the act is passed, or such day, not more than seven months earlier or later, as may be fixed by order of his Majesty in Council." This leaves a wide margin, varying from about the present time to fifteen months hence.

The main principle of the act is the establishment of two equal Par- liaments, one in Dublin for South- ern Ireland, and one in Belfast for the six northeastern counties, with a central connecting council.

The act even provides that local Parliaments may, if they choose, abolish themselves altogether, and turn the central council into one parliament for all Ireland. This single parliament, if it is ever con- stituted, would exceed in impor- tance and functions the home-rule parliaments contemplated by Par- nell and Redmond. Meanwhile, many, if not most, of the powers they contemplated, will be exercis- able by each of the local parlia- ments in its own area.

HUNGER FOR PEACE RATHER THAN BREAD.

PADEREWSKI SAYS POLAND WANTS QUIET; MUSIC CLOSED CHAPTER FOR HIM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Ignace Jan Paderewski, former Premier of Poland, declared today that, al- though the people in that country are suffering from want of food, they are more hungry for peace than for bread. The pianist-diplomat arrived here recently from Geneva, where he served as Poland's plen- potentiary minister to the League of Nations.

"Music is a closed chapter in my life," he told a group of newspaper men today. "I am afraid it is too late to get back my former mastery over the piano. You see I am not a spring chicken any more and I have not played in nearly four years.

"Perhaps some day I shall com- pose, but art is now a secondary object in my life."

He said he would soon go to California to rest for three or four months before returning to Poland to resume active participation in political and diplomatic affairs. His mission in this country is almost entirely to rest, of which he has had none since sailing from Amer- ica shortly after the signing of the armistice.

Poland's position today, he de- scribed as "bad, very bad—and at the same time better than might be expected." Hunger, unemployment and the mass of problems pressing the administration of the republic have created conditions which re- lief measures have not been able to keep pace with, he explained.

"All invasions of the enemy from without have been repulsed," he as- serted with a smile. "Today, regular, though not yet perhaps, perfect, ad- ministration is in charge of national life. Factories are resuming work, mines are up to 85 per cent of pre- war production; everywhere with the exception of those parts of the country destroyed recently by the Bolsheviki, cultivated fields predict fruitful crops. All over the coun- try there is security. Three years of peace and Poland will be on her feet."

COSTS HUGE SUM TO CARE FOR LEVIATHAN.

MARINE COMPANY GETS $15,000 A MONTH TO WATCH OVER GIANT LINER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. — Offi- cials of the International Mercan- tile Marine Corporation will confer with the Shipping Board next week relative to the proposed abrogation of the contract under which the corporation is responsible for the upkeep of the former German liner Leviathan.

The International Mercantile Marine is being paid $15,000 a month by the government for the care of the great ship, which is tied up in New York Harbor. Chairman Benson, in announcing the confer- ence tonight, said this expense was considered by the board to be ex- cessive, and officials of the corpora- tion had shown a willingness to co- operate with the board in reducing expenses on the vessel.

The question of the Internation- al Mercantile Marine's agreement with the British government, which is being investigated by the board for evidence of discrimination against American shipping, Chair- man Benson said, probably will be decided next week.

GASOLINE TEST LAW REPEALED BY OREGON.

MEASURE ENACTED IN 1917 CAUSED FAMINE IN STATE LAST YEAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALEM (Or.) Feb. 18.—Passage late today by the House of a bill previously passed by the Senate re- pealing the gasoline test law wipes off the statute books a bill originally enacted in 1917 and which con- tributed largely to a gasoline famine in the State, companies refusing to bring supplies into the State last year, until enforcement of the law, which required gasoline to be of fifty-six gravity test, was sus- pended by Gov. Olcott.

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 18.—Com- panies objected to the Oregon gravity test law for gasoline because gaso- line is not manufactured on the gravity basis now, as at the time the law was enacted, according to J. Halbley, State manager of the Stand- ard Oil Company. Repeal of the test law, he said, insures the State against any gasoline shortage this year.

ELECTRICAL STRIKE MEDIATION FAILS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Ef- forts of Mayor James Rolph to set- tle the strike of the electrical workers against the Northwestern Power Company have so far failed. Through the efforts of the Mayor, representatives of the strikers held a conference with Mortimer Fleish- hacker, head of the corporation. No progress toward a settlement was made. No further conferences have been arranged.

The electrical workers struck about the first of the present month, the number going out being approx- imately 400, it is said. The com- pany claimed to have filled their places immediately, and has con- tinued giving uninterrupted service.

SPRING SURPRISE IN WHISKY RING CASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—A surprise was sprung by the government to- day in the "Mike de Pike" Heitler whisky ring case when Morris H. Gindich, a dealer in sacramental wines, was pointed out by a witness as the mysterious "Max Bergson," who is said to have manipulated the shipment of the 1000 cases of whisky which formed the nucleus of Chi- cago's most notorious whisky ring deal.

ASKS FIGHT ON TURNOVER TAX.

Government Officer Says Some Businesses Would Fall.

"Little Fellow" Would Suffer the Most.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. — A call to business men of the country to fight the proposed sales, or turnover tax, was issued tonight by Dr. Thomas S. Adams, chairman of the advisory board, Bureau of Internal Revenue, and special adviser to the United States Treasury Department.

The tax would absorb more than one-third the net profits of some business enterprises, he maintained. He advocated reduction of the higher income surtax and abolition of the excess profits and some of the miscellaneous taxes.

"It is time," said Dr. Adams, "that the business men, the consumers and all who desire economy in pub- lic expenditures arouse themselves to the menace involved in the propa- ganda in behalf of the sales, or turnover tax.

THE BENEFICIARIES.

"The taxpayers most threatened are those business men who concen- trate in one line of work — small manufacturers and small merchants, jobbers, large manufacturers who sell to distributors and supply houses. The turnover tax would give a premium, and a big one, to com- binations and synthesized business. If the tax is introduced, the mail order house which owns factories will receive a big bounty as com- pared with the house that buys from independent factories, and all mail order houses will receive a substantial premium as compared with the retailer who buys from a local jobber, who buys from a large national distributor, who in turn buys from the factory.

"We are told this discrimination against the independent dealer would be trifling. It would not be trifling. One per cent on gross sales is more than one-third of the net profits in dairying and meat packing, even in prosperous years. It is more than one-fourth of the net profits in the manufacture of millinery and artifi- cial flowers, in the grocery trade, in the sale of many forms of leather goods, and in the wholesale feed trade. It is more than one-fifth of the net profits in the wholesale lumber trade, in coffee roasting, grist and flour milling, rice milling and cleaning, smelting and refining.

REFORMS NEEDED.

"Three main reforms are needed in the present tax system. The higher income surtax should be re- duced, the excess profits tax should be abolished, and some of the miscel- laneous taxes which are working badly should be repealed. All these reforms can be achieved without in- troducing a turnover tax.

"The consumer has a vital inter- est in the proposed turnover tax. Of the $4,350,000,000 estimated tax receipts for the next fiscal year, 60 per cent would come from income and profits taxes, and 40 per cent from other miscellaneous taxes. Most of these miscellaneous taxes fall on the consumer as such. That is, the consumer will pay 30 per cent of the Federal taxes for the fiscal year 1922 on the basis of the present tax law. But the higher income taxes will be reduced and customs duties will be increased. That will bring the consume.'s share to 40 per cent or more.

"In addition, the consumer is told by advocates of the turnover tax that all or part of the income or cor- poration taxes are passed on to him. Some of this burden probably is passed on. If it is as much as one- fifth of the income and profits taxes, pay more than half of the Federal then the consumers are destined to taxes in 1921, even without the turnover tax.

"The party that sponsors the turnover tax is going to pull down upon its head an avalanche of re- sentment, opposition and unpopu- larity."

ALLEN SAYS HOWAT MAY HELP KANSAS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALINA (Kan.) Feb. 18.—Alex- ander M. Howat, president of the Kansas Miners' Union, being prose- cuted for alleged violation of the Industrial Court law by calling a strike, may be soon expected to be doing "some useful work for the State of Kansas—in the coal mines at Lansing" (the State penitentiary) —Gov. Allen, declared in an address here today at Kansas Live Stock Association convention.

TAMPICO CAPTURE PLOT FRUSTRATED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18. — A plot to capture Tampico by forces headed by Humberto Barros and Velasco Rus has been frustrated, according to a War Office announcement to- day. Both men have fled. Barros was an artillery officer under Gen. Francisco Murguia and Rus an ad- herent of Gen. Manuel Pelaez.

MORE UNEMPLOYED MEN IN DETROIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT, Feb. 18.—A slight de- crease in the number of men em- ployed in factories here was shown today by the weekly report of the Employers' Association. About 2000 fewer men are employed now than a week ago, it was said.

About 70,000 men are now work- ing, the report said, leaving approxi- mately 150,000 idle.

GRANTING DEMANDS WOULD RUIN NATION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

VIENNA, Feb. 18.—Officials of the Austrian government are alarmed over the situation arising from the demands of civil servants, and are endeavoring to negotiate a compromise.

The men ask for a monthly bonus of 5000 crowns. It is said this alone would involve the payment of from 16,000,000 to 20,000,000 crowns a year, which, added to the existing deficit of 42,000,000,000 crowns, would mean the collapse of the country.

SAYS GERMANY MUST PAY UP.

difficulty of exacting an indemnity in another country and securing its payment here.

"You can easily collect in Ger- many any indemnity you impose within reasonable limits, but how are you going to transfer it here? There is much loose thinking on this subject," he said.

"Indemnities can be paid in goods or service, and that is why we in- troduced an export tax on Ger- many's outgoing goods. That means that everything she sends out in goods is gold, for she gets something for which there is a gold equiv- alent."

MUST DO HER BEST.

"Germany must do her best to appreciate the mark by balancing her budget, which now is ridiculous, namely about one-fifth her expendi- ture. This is intolerable. It is not that Germany is too poor to meet the Allied demands and we shall not be convinced she is until she has imposed upon her people the charges which we are entitled to ex- pect she shall impose. I have a suspicion she is coming into court with rather ragged clothes in order to make a good case and reduce her monthly payments.

"The mark is not as ragged as it appears. It is not a shadow, as it looks. It is just put on. This is my conviction, and it is one of the things which certainly will be pressed on the German delegation, namely, that they must make an ef- fort like any other country to bal- ance their accounts, improve their currency and make it more possible to meet obligations. At the same time let us not ignore how much has been accomplished. The German fleet has disappeared, the German army has disappeared; the gigantic war material of Germany has been surrendered; the German colonies have been given up, and very con- siderable quantities of material have been surrendered.

UTMOST LIMITS.

"So far the treaty has been en- forced and it will be our duty to see that the rest is imposed to the utmost limits of the capacity of Germany to discharge it."

"It must not be forgotten," he de- clared, "that deliberate failure by Germany to carry out her obligations means action by the Allies to en- force the treaty."

The Prime Minister declared that before any governments could take the responsibility of calling on their respective countries to take stern steps, those governments must be satisfied that the failure of Ger- many was due to a deliberate at- tempt to defy the treaty.

Alluding to the trial of the former German Emperor, Lloyd George said that in view of Holland's re- fusal to surrender Wilhelm, he would say it was useless to insist that the Kaiser be handed over. France was as strong as England in the demand for punishment of the Kaiser, the Premier said, but even France did not think the Allies should risk anything in the nature of hostile action against Holland. He declared he would insist on trial of the other war criminals.

BECOME MORE ARROGANT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Feb. 17.—Dr. Walter Simons, the Foreign Minister, de- livered a second speech today in Karlsruhe on the Allied reparations demands and Germany's attitude toward them.

"France will not succeed in ob- taining from Germany her hoped- for draft on the future," said Dr. Simons. "It will be our task in Lon- don to point this out. Maybe the Allied representatives will rebel against our proposals. Then, for the time being, the situation will be the same as before the Paris con- ference, and the stipulations of the Versailles Treaty will continue to operate.

"The amount of our opponents' claims for reparations, therefore, must be communicated to us by May 1, and a decision reached as to the method of payment."

FRANCE PLANS COERCION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Feb. 18.—Measures to be taken, if necessary, to coerce Ger- many to fulfill Allied reparation and disarmament terms, were discussed at yesterday's conference between Premier Briand, War Minister Bar- thu, Marshals Foch and Petain, Gens. Weigand and Weigers, says the Echo de Paris.

The military experts of France already have planned down to the smallest detail the advance of French troops toward a secret des- tination, in case of such an even- tuality, it is said. The class of 1919 will be kept with the colors, and the class of 1918 will be called up. Arrangements have also been made to extend the French occu- pation area into the Coblenz dis- trict, should the Washington ad- ministration decide to recall Ameri- can forces from Germany.

Rumor of a revolution in Ber- lin, which was published in an edi- tion of the Matin, caused a sen- sation here today. The story, how- ever, was suppressed in succeeding editions. The Berlin correspondent of the Havas News Agency, in his daily report, made no mention of any disorder.

CACHES OF ARMS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18.—Ar- gentina has refused the request of the Allies that she take measures to prevent German exportation of war materials to Argentina in violation of the Treaty of Versailles. The government takes the ground that Argentina is not concerned in the stipulation of a treaty between other nations.

The fact that such a request had been made by the Allies was disclosed today with publication by the For- eign Office of an exchange of notes between the Foreign Office and the Italian Minister to Argentina, Victor Cobianchi, as dean of the diplomat- ic representatives of France, Japan, England and Italy.

"Generally such material is sim- ply deposited in neutral countries for the account of German firms, or is re-exported to countries where war still continues," Senor Co- bianchi wrote. "It is evident that if these neutral governments do not consent to intervene effectively to prevent it, this traffic will permit German political groups to con- struct, outside German territory, and free from all control deposits of arms which, on occasion, they would be able to utilize.

After asserting that the Allies consider neutral governments which maintain tolerance toward "illicit commerce would incur grave re- sponsibility," Sig. Cobianchi's note states that the Allies "entertain the friendly conviction that the Argen- tine government, taking into ac- count the seriousness of the situa- tion, will adopt the eventual meas- ures necessary to observance of the clauses of the international act of Versailles, which prohibit the ex- portation of German war material to foreign countries."

A London dispatch of January 15, quoting Berlin advices, said negotia- tions were proceeding between the Zeppelin plants at Friedrichshafen and Argentina and Chile for sup- plying those countries with airships. Owing to the restrictions imposed by the Allies, however, the dis- patch added, there was no prospect of immediate deliveries.

Argentina was not a party to the Treaty of Versailles, but was among the nations invited afterward to take membership in the League of Nations.

FIRE INSURANCE BILL PASSED IN ARIZONA.

SENATE ADOPTS REGULATION MEASURE ON COMPANIES' HIGH RATE CLAIMS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, Feb. 18.—The Senate today passed the Nogales bill, for regulation for fire insurance, on claims that Arizona rates are high- er than are known in near-by States. It is understood that an amendment is promised in the House for the ap- pointment of an insurance commis- sioner by the Governor at $6000 a year, the Corporation Commission thus being cut out.

The insurance companies allege that their net income in Arizona does not exceed 8 per cent, this because of added hazards and many losses. They did not produce any compar- ative statement of rates.

The House passed a bill instruct- ing sheriffs to proceed to the de- struction of vagrant burros found on the range unhobbled and un- belled, concurred in a Senate bill governing procedure in the killing of tubercular cattle, and passed a House bill permitting transfer of justices of the peace to other pre- cincts.

Senator Saunders offered a meas- ure that would open the Arizona medical field to all who possess cer- tificates in almost any school of medicine.

A petition was received from the Mesa Commercial Club for creation of the office of immigration commis- sioner.

In reality the lathing is the backbone of your structure, and for this reason, particular care should be taken in choosing a lathing of proven durability and economy.

BUTTONLATH is an improved lathing which combines the best features of metal lath, wood lath, and plasterboard construction. It is not a new experiment, but a plaster base of proven value, that has won, on sheer merit, the confidence of experienced builders.

Besides aiding in the permanency of your struc- ture, BUTTONLATH is a tested fire-retardant, a perfect sound-deadener, and is impervious to both heat and cold. It is also far more economical to use, as in construction it saves time, labor and plaster.

LIQUOR PERMIT NOT NECESSARY.

Pre-Prohibition Goods May be Kept in Storage.

Must be Consumed, Though, in Privacy of Home.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Persons who have liquor acquired before prohibition became effective packed away in safe-deposit vaults or storage warehouses may keep it there without a permit, but must remove it to their residences when they wish to use it for beverage purposes, according to regulations issued yesterday by the Internal Revenue Bureau to meet conditions created by the Supreme Court decision that to hold liquor in storage was not a violation of the Volstead Act.

Forms providing for the transportation of liquor under the new regulations are now being prepared. The regulations which amend those formerly in effect, contain this provision:

MAY HOLD LIQUOR.

"Intoxicating liquors lawfully acquired by the owner thereof, prior to Jan. 17, 1920, for beverage purposes, and on said date located in the dwelling of such owner, or held by him out of bond fully tax paid at the beverage rate in any place of storage may be possessed by him without a permit in his private dwelling or in a place of storage. The terms 'private dwelling' shall be construed to include the room or rooms used and occupied not transiently, but solely as a residence in an apartment-house, hotel or boarding-house.

"Upon the death of a person owning and lawfully in possession of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes as aforesaid, beneficiaries or persons acquiring title to such liquors under the will or by descent from the deceased owner may likewise possess such liquors for beverage purposes without a permit. Liquors now held in bond may not be withdrawn for beverage purposes nor may liquors withdrawn, purchased or procured under any permit covering the disposition or use of such liquors for nonbeverage purposes be diverted to beverage use.

"Liquor lawfully possessed for beverage purposes as herein provided may be used only in the private dwelling of the owner while the same is occupied and used by him as his dwelling only for the personal consumption of the owner thereof, and his family residing in such dwelling and of his bona-fide guests, when entertained by him therein.

MUST MAKE REPORT.

"A person possessing liquor for beverage purposes, as herein authorized in any place of storage outside his dwelling, must make report thereof, on form 1406, showing the kinds and quantity of each kind of liquor owned by him within thirty days after the date hereof, to the Federal Prohibition Director of the State in which the liquor is held, unless such report has hitherto been filed. No report is necessary covering liquor now held in the private dwelling of the owner. A beneficiary receiving liquor from the estate of a deceased person after the date hereof, must make report within thirty days after taking possession of the liquor.

"Liquor may be moved or transported from one place to another place, where possessor is authorized and one acquiring beverage liquor from the estate of a deceased person may remove it from the place where formerly kept by the deceased person to any place where he is authorized to possess it except that liquor may not be removed or transported in violation of any State or Federal law making such removal or transportation illegal."

Towner, chairman of the insular affairs committee of the United States House of Representatives, and Senator Albert B. Fall, chairman of the Senate committee on Pacific Islands, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The messages requested the Congressmen to express to their respective Houses the "sentiments of adherence and respect of the representatives of the people of Porto Rico for the representatives of the national sovereignty, looking for that justice worthy of both in the granting of our immediate aspirations in the extension and development of our present system of government under democratic principles."

Messages were also sent to President-elect Harding and to President Wilson. In their greeting to Mr. Wilson, the House described him as "the greatest apostle of liberty and democracy of the world."

TO STAMP OUT REDS, PREMIERS' AGREEMENT

SOFIA (Bulgaria) Feb. 18.—Polish, Rumanian and Bulgarian premiers have agreed to seek to stamp out the Bolshevik movement in their respective countries.

Stringent measures similar to those employed in Bulgaria have been taken in Rumania and Czecho-Slovakia. In Rumania several Bolshevists were killed in an encounter with the police. Premier Stambouliski a few days ago ordered raids on the Communist clubs and lecture rooms which are now in the hands of the police.

Recently the Premier in a public speech said that if the Communists continued to look to Lenine, the Russian soviet premier, for their instructions he would apply Lenine's principles and send them to fight his battles for Bolshevist world reform.

GATHER EVIDENCE ON GRAFTING UNIONITES.

JANITORS PRACTICE EXTORTION, ASSAULTS AND BOMBING CHARGED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Charges alleging that certain officials of the janitors' union have resorted to bombing, assaults, picketing and interference with the delivery of necessities of life to flat dwellers in their often successful attempts at extortion from apartment-building owners were made yesterday by the employers' association of Chicago. The organization is to make a fight on what it terms the "lawless bullying janitors' union officials of Chicago."

A few days ago the association sent out several thousand questionnaires to Chicago building owners seeking confidential information regarding unlawful acts in furtherance of janitors' strikes and boycotts during the past several years.

More than 150 questionnaires have been returned with charges of "shake downs" ranging from $100, to $900 and all containing data regarding alleged "frightfulness" practiced by the union officials.

The association said when they have obtained sufficient evidence the entire matter will be laid before the state's Attorney for action. Criminal indictments will be asked.

PREMIERS WILL MEET TUESDAY.

Near East Question Before London Meeting.

Delegates from New Greek Government to Attend.

Turkish Nationalists Also to Send Representatives.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The conference of the British Prime Minister, Lloyd George, Premier Briand of France and Foreign Minister Sforza of Italy with representatives of Greece and Turkey, which is to open here Tuesday, has for its object the settlement of important Near Eastern questions growing out of the Treaty of Sevres. In point of world interest and perplexity it is expected to rank with the new historic conferences of Hythe, Brussels and San Remo.

One of the most interesting features of the gathering will be the meeting face to face of the delegates representing the new Greek government under King Constantine with the former Greek Premier Venizelos for the first time since Venizelos withdrew from Greece after the defeat of his ministry in the elections and the recall of the King.

This overturn in Greek affairs was an important factor in influencing the Allies to call the conference.

BOTH OPTIMISTIC.

The Greek and Turkish delegations to the Near East conference are optimistic that the Allies will lend a willing ear to their widely opposed views on the Sevres treaty.

Blacque Pasha, former Turkish Ambassador at Vienna, declared he had no official communication from the Nationalists at Angora. Asked whether an agreement with Mustapha Kemal was likely, he replied: "We will have to wait and see."

He was unable to discuss the proposals his delegation would present at the conference, but said: "They are reasonable and an agreement with the Greeks is quite possible."

DIFFICULT ISSUES.

One of the most difficult issues confronting the delegates will be the disposition of the port of Smyrna and the semicircle of adjacent territory on the Aegean Sea, 100 kilometers long and 100 kilometers broad, which, under the terms of the treaty, were placed under the sovereignty of Greece.

Since the signing of the Treaty of Sevres, however, Turkey has demanded the abrogation of Greek rights in Smyrna as well as autonomy for Thrace. Thrace was given outright to Greece. The demand for autonomy in Thrace is made by the Turks despite the renunciation by the Ottoman government of its sovereignty over Turkey in Europe outside of Constantinople as well as its control over eight or more islands in the Aegean Sea.

Maintenance of Turkish sovereignty over the territory awarded to Armenia is another demand of the Ottoman government which is to come up for settlement. In the treaty, it was provided that Armenia was recognized as "a free and independent state." Turkey accepted the proposal that the President of the United States should be the arbitrator as to the frontier in the Provinces of Erzerum, Trebizond, Van and Bitlis and as to the access of Armenia to the sea.

FINANCIAL STATUS.

Modification of "the economic clauses of the treaty which infringe upon Turkish sovereignty and independence" will also be sought. The Treaty of Sevres provides that the Turkish government can contract no loan, internal or external, without the consent of a permanent English-French-Italian Commission, whose duties include the supervision of all Ottoman financial laws and the reformation of the country's monetary system. This commission also is to determine the amount of the annual sums to be paid by Turkey for the cost of occupation of her territory by Allied troops.

Turkey's desire to maintain a "defensive army" also will be considered by the delegates. The military clauses of the treaty forbade Turkey to have a fleet or military airplanes and provided that all the fortifications along the Dardanelles were to be destroyed. The work of demolition is reported nearly complete. France, England and Italy were obligated to maintain an army of occupation. Turkey was allowed for police purposes a force of 35,000 men, with 15,000 special gendarmes to reinforce them in case of trouble, and a body guard of 700 for the Sultan.

LLOYD GEORGE PRESIDES.

Premier Lloyd George is expected to preside at the conference and A. J. Balfour, who was to have attended the League of Nations Council meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, which opens on the same day, will participate. In addition to representatives of England, France and Italy, Belgium also may send an official delegation.

Plans for holding the conference were complicated by disputes which arose both in Turkey and Greece as to the delegations to represent those countries. The Rhallis Ministry in Greece fell and a new Premier, M. Kalogeropoulous, was chosen. He is expected to head the Greek commission.

Eleutherios Venizelos, former Premier of Greece, now in London, is expected to be an unofficial envoy to the conference as it was while he was Premier that Thrace and Smyrna were given to the Greeks. He is on friendly relations with the Allies while the attitude of the Allies toward the new Greek Premier has not been defined.

TO FIGHT REVISION.

Venizelos has declared that "the possibility of restoring in any degree whatever, the blasting rule of the Turk, by revision of the treaty is incredible."

Turkey's representation at the conference was complicated by the fact that the Ottoman government, headed by the Sultan controls only a small territory in the vicinity of Constantinople, the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmora, while Anatolia, the greater part of Turkey in Asia, is controlled by Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the leader of the Nationalist revolt, which followed the Treaty of Sevres.

Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Grand Vizier, heads the delegation that will represent the Ottoman government of Constantinople. Kemal Pasha, who at first declared he would not do so unless the Allies withdrew from Turkey and waived their indemnity claims, also consented later to send representatives to the meeting.

CALL FARMERS' MASS MEETING AT CAPITAL.

UNION HEAD SAYS TIME TO SHOW WILL POWER TO AUTHORITIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—A call for a mass meeting here April 20 was issued today to members of the National Farmers' Union by its president, Charles S. Barrett, who declared he was prompted by the perilous condition of agriculture.

"This is the time," the call said, "when the farmers like other interests should in the most forceful manner compatible with the respect we always should have for authority, impress upon the government," the need of legislative measures in behalf of "the noble calling of agriculture."

"A new administration is about to assume command in Washington," it continued. "It takes control in a time of great national stress, when deflation, largely artificial, has accomplished the temporary ruin of thousands of our farmers and permanent ruin of thousands of others." Interests seeking to "control the food, the clothing, the transportation systems and the distribution of the nation's commodities" were declared to be "well entrenched" in Washington, and Mr. Barrett asserted that the farmers would "be able to impress upon Congress that we are a real power, with real interests to protect."

"It is evident that the packers will not help us," the call continued. "There is no chance that the fuel men will give us aid and comfort and no support can be obtained from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"Come to Washington and show the authorities here that you have the will and the power to obtain those rights which as citizens of the United States you are entitled to."

TO MEET DEBTS, SAYS ITALIAN AMBASSADOR.

BUT ALSO DECLARES HIS COUNTRY EXPECTS REASONABLE TIME TO PAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The Italian Ambassador, Signor V. Roland Ricci, who recently arrived from Rome and is about to proceed to Washington to present his credentials, expressed his views today on questions in which Italy and the United States are interested.

Referring to the European indebtedness growing out of the war, the Ambassador said:

"Italy will meet her obligations as she has always done. Naturally Italy expects that the amount of her debts will be definitely ascertained and that a reasonable period will be allowed for the payment of them."

With regard to Italy's economic problems he said:

"I realize fully that Italy, as well as all the other European nations, will have now and then some signs of economic unrest. But there will never be a revolution as an outlet of the effects of that great fever arising from the war. Every nation is suffering. But the moral soundness and political calm of the Italian people exclude entirely the possibility that Italy might be infected by revolutionary unrest."

OBREGON HAS ISSUED NEW DECREE ON OIL.

DRILLING PERMITS TO BE REFUSED CERTAIN ONES: COMPLAINTS COMING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—President Obregon has issued an executive order refusing further issuance of drilling permits to oil companies in Mexico who have not complied with all the requirements of the Carranza decrees, according to unofficial advices received tonight. The order was directed to the Department of Industry Commerce and Labor, which has been issuing provisional permits under a temporary agreement with the oil companies.

This agreement was to continue in effect until the Carranza decrees, against which the United States, Great Britain and several other nations have protested, could be adjusted.

The situation confronting American oil companies as a result of the executive order, it was said, would be shown by the companies' representatives here to the State Department tomorrow.

DIAL SENDS LANDIS LETTER TO PALMER.

SENATOR MAKES FORMAL IMPEACHMENT COMPLAINT TO DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Formal complaint against Federal Judge Landis of Chicago for his remarks in the case of an Ottawa (Ill.) bank clerk charged with embezzlement, is made in a letter sent to the Department of Justice today by Senator Dial, Democrat, of South Carolina.

The letter was not made public, but Senator Dial was understood to have objected particularly to Judge Landis's statement that the bank directors were directly responsible for the clerk's thefts because they allowed him a salary of only $90 a month. Senator Dial has contended that such a remark from the bench would tend to increase crime.

The Department of Justice also refused to make the letter public, but officials declared an investigation would be made to determine whether the facts set out by the Senator warranted any action.

GOES TO THE GALLOWS SHOUTING INNOCENCE.

GREEK HANGED AT SAN QUENTIN FOR MURDER OF AGED BROOM PEDDLER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN QUENTIN, Feb. 18.—Shouting protestations of innocence, Ernest Nakis, 23 years old, was hanged at the State penitentiary today for the murder of Edwin Taylor, the "old broom man" of Fresno, on May 16, 1919.

Nakis halted the death procession at the foot of the gallows and asked permission to speak to the small group present. No answer was given him, and when the procession again started he shouted:

"They are hanging an innocent man."

He kept up this cry in a loud tone even after the black cap had been adjusted and had muffled his voice.

Nakis walked to the trap firmly, but seemed nervous and excited. He slept well last night after having had the warden send him a quartet of prisoner musicians. The quartet played for him for an hour while he glided about the cell in improvised dances.

According to the evidence in his trial Nakis was seen going into an outhouse of the Gibson ranch, eight miles from Fresno, with Taylor. Two shots were heard in the house and Nakis emerged alone. A passer-by caught the first four license numerals of the automobile in which he was alleged to have sped from the house.

Other evidence showed he was in Fresno at the time of the crime and his protestations of innocence prompted the Greek Consul-General and various colonies of his countrymen in the State to appeal to the Governor in his behalf.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Growth of International Banking; Hay Market; New Issues.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

International banking is the keystone upon which the arch of foreign trade must be built. There is a fine business to be had with Europe if ways and means are provided for Europe to establish her credit. Financiers all over the country are recognizing this fact, and the "beating back" process is becoming more pronounced.

A very important development along this line is the organization of the new International Acceptance Bank, Inc., in which the First National Bank of Los Angeles, and the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank will represent Southern California as charter members.

Announcement of this has been made by Henry M. Robinson, president of the banks, who credits the plan to Paul M. Warburg, and explains that the organization is for the purpose of financing American foreign commerce and world trade, exercising its functions primarily by the granting of acceptance credits, but competing in no way with the $100,000,000 Foreign Trade Finance Corporation discussed in this column yesterday.

There appears to be no end to the possibilities of financing along this line and the sixteen banks throughout the country interested in the new organization are representative of the best throughout in the financial world.

The International Acceptance Bank, Inc., is being organized with a fully subscribed capital of $10,000,000 common stock and $250,000 special stock, and also a subscribed surplus of $15,000,000.

Mr. Paul M. Warburg will become the chairman of its board of directors. Mr. F. Abbot Goodhue, now vice-president of the First National Bank of Boston, will be its president, while M. P. J. Vogel, a former vice-president of the American Foreign Banking Corporation of New York, and now with the Chase National Bank, New York, and Mr. E. W. Davenport, vice-president of the First National Corporation, New York, will become vice-president.

The new bank will operate under the provisions of Section 25 of the Federal Reserve Act and will be organized as a New York corporation, subject to the regulations and supervision of the Federal Reserve Board and the banking department of the State of New York.

Instead of attempting to establish foreign branches, the new bank has sought and obtained the co-operation and support of some of the oldest and best established banks and banking firms in Europe.

The new bank will from the start control a considerable volume of business, as it will take over a part of the organization and the foreign credit business of the First National Corporation, New York, owned by the First National Bank of Boston, and also the foreign exchange department of Messrs. Huth & Co. of New York.

It is expected that the bank will open for business about April 1 at 31 Pine street, New York City.

THE HAY MARKET.

The alfalfa growers of California in their current market letter contend that the present price of alfalfa is below the cost of production, and that another season of such prices would spell ruin for the hay farmer as well as the grower of other staple crops.

It would be a mistake, according to this authority, to take for granted such low prices for the coming crops. The assumption that this year's crops will be as heavy as in 1920 is not justified.

The association professes to believe that action will be taken before long by the government and the banking interests of the country to create credits on a sufficiently large scale to make possible the marketing of our crops, both at home and abroad.

"We are, however, not optimistic," says the letter, "to the extent that we expect prices to come back to cost of production in a hurry. The handicap of a decline of 40 per cent which the farmer has to overcome is tremendous, considering that taxes, freight, power charges, etc., which he has to pay, have not declined at all, but are higher than ever; that price of farm labor has gone down but little, and that there has been little change in the cost of implements and machinery."

The market shows a further shading of prices for the week. Receipts were fair, but not heavy. The decline is analyzed as the effect of the continued fall in prices of all farm products.

Nine hundred tons of hay were received on the Los Angeles tracks for the week ended February 12 with only twelve tons held over as against ninety tons for the preceding week. Current southern quotations are $37 per ton for rabbit alfalfa; $25 for No. 1 dairy; $23 for standard, and $17 for stock alfalfa.

SPEAKING OF PRICES.

The average American is not interested in penny price cuts, a salesman from out of the East told Trade Talk yesterday, which shows how little he knew what he was talking about, and perhaps explains one reason why California is feeling readjustment stress so much less than it is being felt on the other side of the big hills.

A couple of weeks ago a certain chain store cut the price on ice cream and soft drinks. One popular refreshment which has been selling since the war tax went on for 5 cents was priced at 6 cents with the result that customers walk for several blocks out of their normal routes to participate in that reduction. Other stores are preparing now to meet the cut, but it will take them some time to get the trade back.

Another place where there is constant irritation is at almost any motion picture box office, especially the smaller houses. During the past year at least two and in some instances three price boosts have been made until patrons are paying very nearly as much to see pictures heavy with age as first runs cost on Broadway.

There appears to be no reason to the layman why the cost of entertainment of this character should not go down with food and clothing and automobiles, or why a drink which costs about 2 cents to serve should be passed on to the consumer for four times that sum; or why candy should continue to be available at the same price charged when sugar was 25 and 30 cents the pound. Some of the absorbing must be done by the retailer, and when it is, our progress back towards normal will be accelerated.

HUMANIZING POSTAL ORDERS.

A new conversion table which was put into use at the postoffice a few days ago is much appreciated by patrons of the foreign money order department. It shows the amounts in foreign money for which international orders will be drawn for corresponding sums deposited in United States money. The new table was issued because of the change in the market rate for bills of exchange.

The conversion on Great Britain now used by the postoffice is at the rate of £1 to $4; Netherlands, 1 florin equals 35 cents; Sweden, 1 krona equals 24 cents; Denmark, 1 krona equals 20 cents; Norway, 1 krone equals 20 cents; France, $1 equals 13 francs; Belgium, $1 equals 13 francs, and Switzerland, $1 equals 5.15 francs.

A comparison of these rates with the actual commercial rates of exchange is as follows: London, £1 equals $3.8725; Amsterdam, 1 florin equals .342 cent; Stockholm, 1 krona equal .2205 cent; Copenhagen, 1 krone equals .1845 cent; Christiania, 1 krone equals .176 cent; Paris, 1 franc equals .0712 cent; Belgium, 1 franc equals .075 cent, and Zurich, 1 franc equals .1615 cent.

Attention is invited to the fact that the rate for Switzerland re-

MONNETTE TALKS TO D.A.R.

Orra E. Monnette, president of the Citizens Trust and Savings Bank, yesterday addressed the Hollywood chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the home of Mrs. W. H. Hodge, No. 419 South Ardmore avenue. Mr. Monnette's talk was pertinent to Washington's birthday, and his subject, "Great Men As Human Beings."

NEVADA-CALIFORNIA.

A preliminary earning statement of the Nevada-California Electric Corporation, bonds of which are held in considerable volume in Los Angeles, was received yesterday by Blyth, Witter & Co. According to the statement the total income applicable to all interest charges amounted to $1,630,537.88, while interest charges of every kind, including funded and unfunded debt, amounted to $716,388, the company, therefore, earning its interest charges approximately 2.28 times over.

INAUGURATION BOOM.

With inauguration day just two weeks off there is talk of a speculative stock boom. There is really no reason why a boom should accompany the advent of a new administration, and as a matter of course it will be several weeks before any physical changes can be brought about, but the better feeling is almost certain to establish better actualities, and many look for a decided upturn about the time Mr. Harding takes the oath of office.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The further reaction of prices in the stock market was primarily due to the same adverse circumstances and factors which have governed financial operations since the beginning of the year. Lack of buying power or public interest, the poor earnings of railroad and industrial corporations and the slow revival of general business continued to militate against constructive efforts.

The money market was easier and call loans dropped from 7 to 6 per cent. A fair demand was noted for commercial paper and bank acceptances, but very little time money was obtainable, except for the shorter periods.

Foreign exchange was more unsettled, rates on London losing the greater part of their recent gains. Remittances to the continent also were lower, giving especial point to the British Premier's plea for bankers' credits to Central Europe.

Bears were particularly aggressive in such issues as shippings, oils and motors at gross recession of 2 to 10 points. Little support was forthcoming, lowest prices being registered in many instances shortly before the close.

Atlantic Gulf and West Indies common was the weakest and most active issue, with a net loss of 5½ points. Dealings in this stock were in excess of half its capitalization and suggested a lessened dividend. Representative rails, such as Norfolk and Western and Reading featured the few gains, both advancing 1½ points. Sales 550,000 shares.

The bond market was irregular on reduced offerings. Liberty and Victory issues closed mostly at nominal gains, but other domestic issues and international flotations were inclined to react. Total sales, par value, $9,550,000.

Chicago Boxer Hasn't Much on Martin; Ho for Relay Carnival; Dempsey to Visit Europe.

BRENNAN ISN'T SUCH A MUCH.

Outpoints Bob Martin in Fifteen-Round Scrap.

Former Soldier, Though Loser, Shows Very Well.

Both Men Fighting Hard at Finish of Contest.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Bill Brennan, the Chicago heavyweight, defeated Bob Martin of West Virginia, who holds the A.E.F. championship in that class, in a fifteen-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. The bout went the limit, and the judges agreed on Brennan as the winner.

The former soldier, though beaten, gave a very good account of himself. Inexperience in the ring combined with the ineffective use of his left hand was largely responsible for his defeat.

LEFTS TO FACE.

During the first five rounds Brennan landed solid left jabs to the face, which Martin seemed unable to avoid, but in all of these sessions Martin had decidedly the better of the exchanges.

From the first round, which was about even, Martin bid profusely from the mouth. He was the aggressor, however, during the next four rounds, and had Brennan on the defensive most of the time. In the fifth Martin landed four right smashes on the head and jaw and seemed to have Brennan on the run. From that stage to the end of the eleventh Brennan was the master.

RIGHT SMASH.

In the tenth round, Martin, although he showed signs of weakness, sent a straight right smash to Brennan's jaw, which staggered the Chicagoan a couple of seconds before the bell sounded.

Brennan had all the better of the eleventh, but in the twelfth, Martin rallied and at close quarters gave blow for blow and divided the honors of that session. Brennan being visibly tired as he went to his corner.

Brennan had the better of the remaining three rounds, the last of which found Brennan continually trying to land a knockout blow, but the pair were fighting in a fierce mixup when the bell ended the bout. The faces of both were badly marked.

Probably the shortest bout ever held in Madison Square Garden was the opening heavyweight contest tonight, which lasted sixteen seconds. Wiley Allen of New York sent a right smash to the jaw of Bob Sweeney of Boston, sending him down for the count almost as soon as they had squared off.

Homer Smith of Kalamazoo, Mich., knocked out Wild Bill Reed of California in the fourth round with a hard right to the ear. Smith weighed 118 pounds and Reed 132. The third bout ended in the second round by the disqualification of Pinkey Lewis of California, negro heavyweight, for holding his opponent, Kid Norfolk, who holds the Rickard belt as the negro light heavyweight champion.

Dewan and Martin entered the ring shortly before 9:30 o'clock. Brennan's weight was announced as 193 1-4 pounds and Martin 184½.

The Citrus Union five, however, had an equally good record and came over to Monrovia field with gore in their eyes and determination to win written large on their features. The first few minutes showed the teams evenly matched, but toward the end Monrovia's more aggressive playing won the day.

TRACK READY FOR ATHLETES.

Paddock Field Seems to be in Splendid Shape.

Only Rain Today Can Prevent A.A.U. Relay Races.

Many New Records May be Set During Afternoon.

At a late hour last night it seemd pretty well agreed that the Paddock Field track in Pasadena will be in splendid shape for the A.A.U. relay carnival this afternoon. Only heavy rain today can keep it from being fully up to the expectations of the spike-shod athletes, who are very hopeful of cracking numerous records.

The meet is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock sharp with the first heat of the high school 100-yard dash, class One. The first four events on the program will consist of various classes of the 100-yard dash and in the open century the long awaited struggle for second place to Charley Paddock will take place. At the present time Bill Isenhour of U.S.C. and Zip Arnold of Pomona are favored for the position.

ALL VARIETIES.

Every know variety of relay event will be pulled off during the afternoon, three of them for colleges and the remainder for high schools of different classes. The college events are four-man, one-mile relay, eight-man, one-mile relay and four-man two-mile relay. U.S.C. won the two former events last year and Redlands the two-mile affair. This year the competition promises to be even closer with the Trojans and Baptists again as favorites, but with Occidental and Pomona in particular figured as strong contenders.

In the one-mile, four-man relay in particular, the running is expected to be very close. At least four of the laps ought to be run in 50s, or less which is going some for this section of the country. Schiller and Wilson of U.S.C. and Kilby of Redlands have records of better than 50 seconds and Spangler, the freshman phenom from Occidental, has already shown himself capable of similar speed. He has the best quarter of the season to his credit.

The open events aside from the 100-yard dash are the 120-yard high hurdles, the high jump and the pole vault. In the high hurdles particularly the going is certain to be very warm. Three Olympic team members, Bill Yount of Redlands, Charley Daggs of Pomona and Feg Murray of the L.A.A.C. are due to compete. In addition to these three, young Otto Anderson of Pomona High is capable of ambling over the barriers in about 15 2-5s.

Prep stars will have a chance to burst into the limelight in the high jump and pole vault. Sencerbox and Fisher of Lincoln have been clearing 5ft. 9in. while high jumping this year and Dennis of Los Angeles High School has scored a victory over the redoubtable Mr. Goodenough of Occidental with the bar at better than 11 feet. In both events the competition will be very exciting.

For the benefit of those who don't know where Paddock Field is located it is part of Tournament Park, Pasadena where the annual Tournament of Roses football game is played. Schedule of events in order is as follows:

1. 100-yard dash, high schools, Class I.
2. 100-yard dash, high schools, Class II.
3. 100-yard dash, high schools, Class III.
4. 100-yard dash, open.
5. Open pole vault.
6. 120-yard hurdles, open.
7. Two-mile relay, four men, Class I.
8. 880-yard relay, four men, Class II.
9. High jump, Open.
10. Medley, relay, four men, Class III.
11. One-mile relay, eight men, Class I.
12. One-mile relay, eight men, Open.
13. One-mile relay, four men, Class II.
14. 880-yard relay, four men, Class III.
15. One-mile relay, four men, Class I.
16. One-mile relay, four men. Open.
17. Two-mile relay, four men. Open.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Feb. 18.—Track work at the University of Redlands is in the old stride and next week will see the annual inter-class meet, which is one of the bitter fights of the athletic year between the various classes. The seniors, with two men, are figuring on winning the meet and the other classes are not much hopeful of upsetting the dope.

The two hustling young fellows are Wild William Yount and Colon Kilby. William expects to annex at least five or six firsts and Colon can take three or four.

The freshmen are the dark horses and with seconds and thirds, might defeat the seniors. The schedule is: Monday, 100-yard dash, shot put, 120-yard hurdles, mile and 440-yard dash; Wednesday, high jump, broad jump, hammer, discus, 220 dash; Monday, 880 dash, pole vault, 220 hurdles, 2-mile run and relay.

MIDWICK FOUR THERE AT POLO.

Hands Out a Trimming to Point Judith Tigers.

Large Crowd of Enthusiasts Sees the Contest.

L. M. Hughes is Big Star of the Final Period.

BY PAUD LOWRY.

Polo bugs who ambled out to the Midwick field yesterday afternoon returned with the conviction that as a mallet center the noble State of Rhode Island isn't much. They formed this conclusion after watching the Point Judith Tigers from Narragansett Pier, a pulsating metropolis of the afore-mentioned State, take a 13-to-6 beating at the hands of the Midwick four.

The gentlemen who have something to do with handicapping the various players who disport here and there handed the Midwick boys a three-goal handicap to start with. They didn't need it, and demonstrated this fact to the satisfaction of all concerned before the fracas was half over.

NOT IN IT.

Even with the able assistance of the noted E. B. Hopping, one of the six birds picked to go abroad and represent the United States this summer, the Narragansett gang weren't in the running.

Deducting the three-goal handicap with which Midwick began the game, this thing would have ended with a score of 9 to 6 in favor of the home forces. This didn't give the easterners much to cheer about in discussing the whys and wherefores when the slaughter came to an end.

LARGE CROWD.

One of the largest crowds of the year turned out to watch the home guard perform the pleasant ceremonies of sending Narragansett back to the tules, and all present were thoroughly rewarded with a hard, fast, galloping game, in which the splendid work of A. C. Perkins and L. M. Hughes stood out in bold relief.

Hughes wasn't so much in the opening chapters, but in the closing cantos he came to life with a bang. Besides scoring a goal each in the sixth and eighth chukkers he rendered potent aid in the tallying of others.

WAS REVELATION.

Perkins was a revelation all day. He is a four-goal man, but a caucus of the sharps present failed to see where Hopping, the eight-goal man, had anything on him. He scored four goals, and was high man of the day. Hopping sent two between the uprights, and showed nothing in the way of strokes that Perkins didn't have.

The work of Carleton Burke and Teddy Miller for Midwick left nothing to be desired. Gatins, with a goal in the third chukker and two in the fifth, was the best point-getter for the Tigers.

The game was a seesaw affair up to the intermission. Each team had punched the gong five times. Midwick's three-goal handicap, however, gave it the lead, 5 to 5.

Fleischman opened the scoring in the first chukker by cracking one through the posts after a mix-up near the Midwick goal. Teddy Miller tried a long shot for Midwick at the end of the period, but missed.

Perkins and Gatins engaged in a scrap in the second chukker. The latter hooked Perkins's mallet before he started a swing from the ground, and the referee called a foul. Hughes made a goal shortly after.

GREATEST SHOT.

Gatins scored in the third period after two outs of bounds and a safety. Perkins scored two goals, the second of which was probably the most sensational shot of the contest. It was a backhand bang that sailed squarely between the posts.

Hopping scored the only goal in the fourth session, and should have had another, but Perkins saved by superb riding.

The fifth chukker was give and take, Perkins getting two goals and Gatins two. The sixth was all Midwick, Carleton Burke smashing a fifty-yard shot over the line for a point and getting another with the assistance of Miller and Hughes. Hughes scored after Burke had taken the ball down the field after a long ride.

FINAL POINT.

Hopping was the only man to score in the seventh period, and gavel Point Judith its sixth and final point.

Hughes was the big star of the final period. Mounted on a black charger, he fairly flew down the field. In three drives he scored Midwick's twelfth point and, was directly responsible for getting the ball in a position for Miller to gather in the last goal. The line-up:

PICKENS A GARDEN GENIUS.

Under Bill's Wand Center of Bike Speedway Blooms; Sporting Gossip.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

One of the greatest benefits brought by the rain was that bestowed on the Parisian Garden in the center of the new bicycle speedway at Washington and Hill.

William Hickman Pickens, the landscape artist designing and planting this garden, and putting it under cultivation, had expected to be compelled to bring it to maturity by irrigation. But the blessed rain arrived just as Bill had planted the last Japanese umbrella in the new oasis, and the umbrellas, which were somewhat withered and wrinkled, immediately opened up and began to grow. An umbrella never does quite as well as in the rain. It is not a desert plant. However, there is a smaller species of the umbrella, known as the parasol, which blooms in an arid climate.

This is most fertile soil, and as a result of the rain some of the wicker chairs under the umbrellas took root in the ground, and sent out tender shoots, which began entwining themselves around the handles of the umbrellas like a vine. Mr. Pickens will have the chairs pruned today in preparation for tomorrow's opening meet. When these tendrils are cut from the chairs everything will be in readiness.

Mr. Pickens knows more about Parisian gardening than a Jap who speaks French, and he is determined to make this a Garden of Eden with the apples left out.

Blessed is he who makes two Japanese umbrellas grow where there grew but one before. This virgin forest is bound to expand until this becomes a land of spreading umbrellas, flowering wicker chairs and gurgling lemonade.

Laying all superciliousness aside, this looks to be about the fastest bicycle track in the world. Many regard it as the Jack Prince masterpiece. The track is so fast that to stand in the middle and look at it gives you the same sensation as when looking out the car window on the Twentieth Century Limited.

The writer has seen the Veladome in Newark, N. J., and the several tracks in and near Paris, and this appears to have some points of superiority over all of them. It is banked at the ends at forty degrees, as against thirty on the French tracks, where bicycle racing is a national sport. At the turns there is a triple radius, which enables the rider to make the turn almost automatically, and without perceptible effort. At these points the bicycle seems to direct the rider, instead of the rider directing his machine. He simply sits pat, while the machine is lifted firmly yet lightly onto the bank at the turn.

Of course, there are bound to be spills, especially when the riders are bunched and "brushing," but the serious accidents are few, due as Mr. Pickens points out, to the fact that Oregon pine is softer than solid ivory.

It is more than probable that E. E. Anderson will pay the new track more than one visit, drawn there by the wild, wild whirl of the wheels.

Those who know Mr. Anderson probably know him as merely one of many automobile men in this motor metropolis of ours. But if they knew further back they would know he was the first man to ride a bicycle a mile in the neighborhood of a minute. Also, he was the pioneer in highly paced riding, being the first to ride behind a train. This was in 1896. Desiring to learn just how fast a man could ride behind rapid pacing, arrangements were made with the Chicago and Alton Railroad to plank their road bed for a mile in the vicinity of St. Louis. Crouched over his handle bars behind an express train, Anderson rode the planked mile in one minute and three seconds, which went into the family almanac as a new record and a studpendous achievement.

Two years later, paced by a train on Long Island, Charley Murphy beat the mile, and it was quite generally opined that the limit of speed had been reached.

"Red" continues to lead the fledgling flock in the daily workouts, while a number of professionals or "specials", have made their appearance on the track. Many outside towns are dropping their "local favorites," and the south, as twenty years ago, undoubtedly will develop some worthy to compete for national honors.

Bill Essick yesterday received the signed contracts of Pitchers Ernie Shore and "Willie" Mitchell. Inclosed with Shore's contract was a letter to President Maier stating he will report the first week in March, and that he is planning to pitch all the ball that he knows for the Tigers. As there had been reports that Mitchell would retire, and there always is some doubt about an eastern player reporting on the Coast, these contracts were as sweet to Bill Essick as honey which has been kissed by the business end of a bee.

ALEXANDER GIANTS TO PLAY SEMIPRO.

What promises to be two of the best semipro ball games played in months here are scheduled for this afternoon and tomorrow, when the Alexander Giants (colored) play Blake, Moffitt & Towne and the Universal Film club. Today's game with B.M.T. will be a Suburban League game, where the Giants, since joining, have not fared so well.

Tomorrow the Giants play the Universals in class AA of the Managers' Association. In this league the Giants created havoc by beating the strong Ontario club last Sunday. Both games are to be played on the Giants' field, Thirty-second street and Long Beach Avenue. Large crowds are looked for.

The line-ups follow:

LETTER FOR AUSTIN.

A letter awaits Jimmy Austin, champion 105-pound boxer, at the sporting department of The Times.

Bikers to be Sent on Way Tomorrow.

Bike racers were so thick on the new stadium track yesterday afternoon that Starter Fred J. Wagner, who presided during the practice period, separated the crowd into two relays. At one time half of the entire track was covered with pedal pushers. Several minor spills enlivened the proceedings. Every time a biker slides along the track after taking a header he accumulates quite a crop of splinters. With lumber at top price this makes it an expensive sport.

Officials for the opening meet of the track tomorrow were selected last night. Pat Higgins, who qualified as an expert in untangling muscle and ivory during the Miller-Montana match, was named referee. If any rider possesses a sharp elbow he had better use it on another rider as the pair are passing behind one of the Parisian garden sun shades, instead of where Pat can lamp his fancy work.

Frank Chance will call close decisions as one of the judges, while Mel Nordlinger will take one of his most expensive stop watches out of stock for the day in order to properly clock the boys. John De Palma will use Brother Ralph's well-oiled timepiece in assisting Mel.

"Bill" Furman, hero of the old Fiesta Park racing days, who has a highly burnished medal he won for defeating Ralph Hamlin and a flock of other old-timers, will act as clerk of the course. "Bill" will have quite a job on his hands for there are sixty-four entries already with another day to go before the list closes.

EVERETT McGOWAN LEADS IN SKATING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAKE PLACID (N. Y.) Feb. 18.—Everett McGowan of St. Paul held a five-point lead at the end of the first day's skating for the American professional speed skating championship today. McGowan had a total of 66 points and Ed Lamy of Saranac Lake and Arthur Staff of Chicago, each had 55. The competitors will meet in the final three events tomorrow. Bobby McLean was unable to be present to defend his title.

SOUTH DAKOTA WINS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BROOKINGS (S. D.) Feb. 18.—South Dakota State College won the State college basketball championship tonight by defeating University of South Dakota, 40 to 14.

NOTRE DAME BEATEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) Feb. 18.—Nebraska University basketball team tonight defeated Notre Dame, 25 to 18.

SOCCER DOUBLE-HEADER.

Two soccer games will be played at Vernon field tomorrow afternoon in the Southern California Association. The first of the double-headers will start at 12:45 when the Gordons and the Long Beach Uniteds will be sent against each other. The second contest will start at 2:30 when the Sons of St. George and the Santa Monica clubs will take the field.

The Long Beach Uniteds will be favorites tomorrow in their tussle with the Gordons. They have downed such strong aggregations as the Uniteds and the Overseas, two of the strongest clubs in the league. They possess a strong offensive movement that is disconcerting to most clubs. Gordons, on the other hand have always done well against strong opposition, and in previous meetings with their brothers from the beach city have played a finished brand of soccer.

CURRY GOLF LEADER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Milton Curry of the Lincoln Park Golf Club led the field in the qualifying round of the Northern California amateur golf championship today, with a score of 162. The play was over thirty-six holes on the course of the San Francisco Golf and Country Club.

ROSCOE SARLES BREAKS RECORD.

Rambling Roscoe Sarles yesterday hung new laurels upon his noble brow, when, in a qualifying lap for the five-race speed program to be held on the Los Angeles Speedway next Tuesday, he broke the track record for 183-inch racing cars by chewing off a circuit in 42s. flat. This dopes out as a speed of 107.14 miles per hour, which is certainly remarkable for such a little engine. Sarles tore off lap after lap in 42⅛s., which also is under the previous mark of 42⅛s.

Jimmy Murphy, Eddie Miller and Johnny Thiele were out performing under the watchful eye of Fred Duesenberg. Today is expected to be a big day, with Ira Vail, Ralph De Palma, Tom Milton, Eddie Hearne and several other demons who have been conspicuous by their absence on the job. Those who know say that Ralph De Palma will go after Sarles's new record.

Holly High in a Basket Tie With Pasadena

Hollywood High School worked itself into a tie with Pasadena High School in the City League basketball race by defeating Manual Arts yesterday afternoon by a score of 34 to 33, in a bitterly fought game. Each team won four games and lost one.

Manual led at half-time, 19 to 15, but the Foothillers let loose a latent gush of energy in the second period, and scored 19 points to Manual's 14.

Capt. Troyer was the big star of the day for Hollywood. He tallied 22 points. Moore, for Manual, made 14 and Loynd, 10. Archer rang up 10 for Hollywood. The fine guarding of Dorsey and Nason was in large part responsible for the victory of Coach Cox's men.

In the preliminary contest the Hollywood 130-pounders defeated the Manual lightweights in another tight game, 23 to 22.

BASKET WINNERS TO RECEIVE SILVER CUPS.

There's a bunch of lovely silver cups over at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and they'll be handed out tonight to the teams and players making the best showing in the big basketball carnival. Plenty of action and consequent excitement may be expected on this occasion, with an immense number of participants and a corresponding crowd of rooters representing many educational institutions and clubs. Because of its unusual character the carnival is attracting notice throughout the entire country. It will show team and individual play clearly in every instance and serve to promote good, clean work and boost the sport mightily.

The events are open to all Southern California amateur basketball players registered in the A.A.U. The program of play events opens at 8 sharp, and the closing feature of the evening will be a dance.

LONG BEACH HIGH WINS.

Long Beach High basketers defeated Whittier last night, 26 to 14. Alcock starred for the winners. In the preliminary game Whittier 110-pounders beat Long Beach, 26 to 11.

POLY TRIMS L. A. HIGH.

Poly's crack basketers put it on L. A. High last night on the latter's court, 29 to 23.

Visit Europe.

DEMPSEY IS TO VISIT EUROPE.

Will Cross Pond for Three Months' Stay in March.

Only Exhibition Bouts to be Given While Abroad.

Manager Hints that Champ is to be Married.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Jack Dempsey is going to Europe the last week in March. He and his manager, Jack Kearns, plan to see the sights in London, Paris and Berlin.

Kearns smiles like a man anticipating something good for himself and the champion. "Dempsey will receive a check for $25,000 for seeing in the movies out in Los Angeles," says Kearns. "That will keep him busy until the last week in March.

THE BIG THING.

"But Europe! Ah, that's the big thing just now. No white champion, while champion—ever toured Europe. Our trip will set a precedent. Wilson set a precedent by going abroad while President. That's what our trip will be.

"Dempsey is crazy to see the other side of the world. He's going to bless that $25,000 movie check all the way to Berlin. Besides seeing the people, the champion is going to be seen by the people.

TO SWING MASHIE.

"Then Carpentier walloped Dempsey at golf while in this country. No one can lick Dempsey in anything and get away with it. So the champion will meet Carpentier outside Luxembourg gardens in Paris at golf.

"Is he to be married and will the trip be his honeymoon? Well, Dempsey is 26 and in love. But he won't be married before the big fight on July 2—and he may not be married at all. The girl's name? Ask the champ. I haven't the slightest idea—and that is straight.

TO GET JACK.

"The object of the trip, of course, is to make money and get acquainted with foreign sporting people. The champion will show them how he can box in exhibitions. When the big fight comes off in July they will come over to see the fight by the shipload.

"He won't box any soft English heavies while away. A clause in his contract with Carpentier prevents him boxing outside America before he meets the Frenchman. We will be gone three months."

FRANK TROEH AGAIN WINNER WITH GUN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 18.—The interstate amateur cup race was won here today at the seventeenth annual trapshooting tournament by Frank Troeh, of Vancouver, Wash., who broke 94 out of the 100.

His closest opponent was R. A. King of St. Louis, who scored 93. Ole Osborn of Courtland, Kan., Harry Snyder of Kansas City and Frank Hughes of Mobridge, S. D., tied for third place with 92. Clark Arie, Champaign, Ill., and W. B. Killam, St. Louis, were professionals with 93 and 92 respectively.

The national wing shot handicap trophy, for which forty-eight shooters competed, was won by Riley Thompson of Caineville, Mo., who scored 25 straight.

Attorney Burke is High Man for Probation Head.

W. M. Burke, local attorney and an instructor in political science and sociology, was certified to the Board of Supervisors yesterday by the County Civil Service Commission as the candidate having the highest standing in an examination to fill the office of chief county probation officer.

Samuel Lacy, a former schoolteacher, was second highest in the examination and was also certified as second choice for the place. More than twenty applicants took the examination for the position, which has been vacant for five months, due to the resignation of Harold K. Vank, who accepted a similar position in Seattle.

The local Civil Service Commissioners, Frank E. Doty, secretary and chief examiner of the commission, announced last night, were assisted in conducting the examination by G. C. Estedo, chief probation officer in San Francisco.

BLAME MISPLACED.

M. and M. Denies Responsibility for Unemployment Here.

Denial that the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association is responsible for the unemployment in the city because of advertisements for help inserted in eastern newspapers was made yesterday in a letter to the City Council from the secretary of the association, F. J. Zeehandelaar. Considerable discussion has taken place recently concerning the unemployment problem, and it was stated by a number of organizations that the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association was responsible for this condition.

In his letter to the Council, Mr. Zeehandelaar says that in September, 1919, the association placed a number of advertisements in eastern papers advising those interested in coming to Los Angeles to write to the association concerning employment. When the answers were received, questionnaires were sent, and when these were returned filled out, they were turned over to employers, who engaged those that were needed.

It was also stated that the reason many have come here searching for employment is because of conditions in the East and the climatic attractions here.

Bargains, my dears, such as you never dreamed of are offered you at the 20 per cent discount sale which the Great Western Glass Company are having at their showroom, 220 West Fourth street. You would perfectly adore the darling little salts and peppers I saw yesterday. Would it not be a very sensible plan were you to lay in a supply of glassware now at such a showing of actual money?

"Whatever in the world did you put in your cake, Lucinda, to make it so rich? You must have used oodles of eggs and I tremble when I think what my bill at the grocer's is going to be." Thusly was the treasured cook of a friend of mine spoken to. But wait until you hear the answer. "Lawdy, miss Nan, I done used Milcos, a nut margarine I been reading about, and it certainly is good!" Nan now, is the biggest booster for Milcos and uses it altogether for the table. She says every grocer carries it, so you won't have any difficulty in buying it—includs a pound in today's order!

Suppose you found after furnishing the new home that the household budget of expenses allowable couldn't be stretched—try as you might—to permit the purchase of an electric vacuum cleaner—then my news concerning a Vacuette Suction sweeper would be sweetest music, would it not?—for these very capable labor-saving devices are most reasonable in price—within the reach of every one. No motor attached—they generate their own vacuum by means of a fan, gathering all the dust and lint from your rugs and carpets in a truly remarkable way. You must see one operated to appreciate how very efficiently it works. After one demonstration you are "sold." The next thing is how soon may you have it delivered. Did I tell you our leading department, hardware and furniture stores all carry Vacuettes? Take the time to see them today!

If you want cut flowers all the year round, go to 620 South Spring and get Aggeler and Musser's seed catalogue. In it you will find all the flowers you love best and on page 32 is a list of bulbs to plant in "an old-fashioned garden," as well as those very up to date.

Just wait until you have used one pound of Clee Koe coffee—then note the expression of anticipated pleasure in the faces of each member of your family when served with a cup of this most delightful beverage, which costs but 35 cents a pound. The Clee Koe Coffee Company's home is at 316 West Fifth. You will make a note of it stopping in today for a pound.

Life isn't all deserts—just or otherwise—and breakfast must be given careful consideration. Cheery good mornings will be your salutation to the dawn if you give your good family Phospho bran muffins. You never tasted such toothsome mouth-watering bits of what we call the staff of life—namely bread. Phospho nut brown meal, flour and bran order at any good grocers, the sooner the better.

The next time you serve tea don't spend hours worrying about the menu and more hours preparing for it. Make use of the Elite Caterers, whose establishment may justly boast that their fascinating small cakes compare, nay excel those of any of the similar shops in the East. Their address is 641 South Flower.

My dears! it is the easiest thing in the world to have two rooms in one, a living-room in the day time and a bedroom at night, by the use of reversible davenports, which the Eastern Outfitting Company, 620 South Main, are showing in all finishes of woods. Those of a period style appealed most to me. The Jacobean design being unusually attractive. It will be well worth your while to go in and see these interesting pieces of furniture, which faithfully serve two purposes. Easy payments are another decided advantage, the Eastern Outfitting Company offers.

To the tourist California is a revelation! And Los Angeles is "A City of Dreams Come True." Every woman visitor, with few exceptions, is a housewife at heart, and our markets bring a thrill of pleasure, which I defy any of you to dispute. Show me a new arrival, who, after going through any of Young's markets, does not exclaim most sincerely, "What a deal of pride you must take and justly, too, in this perfectly appointed and conducted store!" We never hesitate to say we are proud of Young's, when we a-marketing go, their name is on our list of stores to visit, consequently a large place is reserved in bags and baskets for purchases made from their numerous attractive counters.

Maybe you thought you knew what good doughnuts tasted like. But not until you have eaten a Perfect Cream Doughnut are you aware of the state or perfect bliss the partaking of one of these ravishingly delicious krullers leads to bring about. Their price has been lowered. Please take note of this and jot down the address, 207 West Fourth, that you may carry some home "tout suite."

A party on George Washington's Birthday! Isn't that is a beautiful thought on which to dwell awhile, during which time mayn't I make the tiniest suggestion? You, of course, will serve among other things Hughes ice Cream. Well, then, order it as soon as possible, have the ice cream in moulds appropriate for the occasion. Though if its Hughes it will be delicious in any way in which it is served.

Pronto is the powder which Mary Lee keeps "at her elbow" so to speak—whenever she is at work in the kitchen—for she says by shaking a bit of this marvelous cleaner down the sinks and drains she prevents that stoppage which is the bane of almost every housekeeper's existence. If you will remember to order at least one can of Pronto from your grocer today, I am sure you will never be without it again.

A pretty, inexpensive palm can be grown from one or two seeds of a common dried date. The soil should be rich and the plant should be well watered.

This very day you should face the importance of having your hardwood floors cleaned, polished and waxed properly, so why not call Pico 1680. That is the number of the Acme Cleaners and I assure you the satisfaction derived from their very efficient work will be worth a great deal to you.

One would as soon think of keeping house sans dishes as sans Jevne's salad dressing. The reason being too obvious to need elaboration—until you have used Jevne's mayonnaise you no doubt struggled along using your own dressing, which, the chances are, was made in a hit or miss manner, sometimes successfully, more often the result was horribly disastrous. Real sure enough economy is obtained by the use of Jevne's though I confess quite candidly that it was oh, ever so long before I would believe that one could actually buy so delicious a necessity for successful salads. Now my salads are the envy of my friends until I let them in on the secret, then an untold number of blessings are poured upon my undeserving head when to Jevne's is due all the credit and praise.

Leftover cauliflower may be mixed with some other vegetable and baked in scallop shells.

Two small lusty-voiced kiddies burst into the kitchen of my bungalow not many days ago, hungry as hungry could be! demanding that they be given something "awful good to eat" as quickly as ever I could give it them. I must admit these mere tots have been spoiled by me, but it began long ways back by my deliberately inviting them to come in for a bit of a picnic lunch of L. A. Creamery Company's cottage cheese, which is mixed with pure cream and contains so much nourishment for growing bodies. They literally gobbled up not only the bowlful I set before them, but that which I had reserved for the supper's repast. I ungrudgingly gave for I know how beneficial it is and I only wish I could gain the consent of every mother to give not only the wee tots and lassies L. A. Creamery cottage cheese, but the grown ups as well.

That we may the more enjoy these days in which boughs awaken to life in your garden to shimmer with new found green and gold and violet let us see that everything within our homes is in perfect running order, gliding on oiled wheels as 't were. That hateful old sink over which you spend many precious hours indoors in an endeavor to find out what ever could be stopping it up can be remedied by the use of a Sanitary Drain Flusher. They fit any faucet or drain, being easy of operation as there is nothing about them to get out of order. Your plumbing fixtures are in no way injured by the use of this drainer, which is not for sale in stores, but by sending a request to their office, 546 Douglas Building, they will arrange to have a salesman call and give you a demonstration of their value.

Before putting the potatoes in with your roast of pork or beef to cook, parboil them about fifteen minutes.

Tiny baby Chicks, alluring bits of fluffy, golden, feathery down, which you take the keenest delight in watching grow because one day they will lay golden eggs, score and scores of them, repaying you many times over for your care of them, at the Fanciers' Exchange, 640 South Main, these little peeping fellows may be bought for 20 cents apiece. Now is the time to buy them. A suggestion many may take to heart.

Why not a buffet supper party at Eagle Rock Lodge, that most gorgeous of homes, where all the food is home-cooked? Do call Garvanza 492 and make your reservation at once.

Feltoleum for 58 cents; inlaid linoleum, $1.58, at the removal sale that Mr. A. L. Wallers is having, present address 627 S. Spring. Now one, 814 South Main.

When you can buy beautiful yellow, cling canned peaches for 25 cents, pears at 27 cents and tomatoes for 16 2-12 cents, it is practically having them given to you—yet this is the opportunity offered us by the Chinese-American-Philippine Importing Company at the sale they are having at 715 South Figueroa, next to the Hellman Bank. Don't miss this chance of a lifetime, will you?

In the City Club rooms at 6:30 p.m. today the local order of Hoo-Hoo will hold a concatenation. This, according to H. A. Browning, secretary, means that the local branch of a national organization of lumbermen known as Hoo-Hoos will initiate about twenty-five new members. Preceding there will be a banquet. The Hoo-Hoo emblem is a big tomcat. Bushnell W. Bookstaver, chief of the membership committee, who keeps Tom, the senior Hoo-Hoo, in his possession, claims the old boy never felt better and is rarin' to get at the new members tonight.

OLIVE GIFTS TO DROP FROM SKY.

"Times" Airplane Will Shower —Certificates Entitling the Finder to Packages.

Gifts of ripe olives will descend upon Los Angeles from the sky Monday noon.

Certificates entitling the finders to quart packages of ripe California olives are to be dropped from a Times airplane upon the business and residential districts of the city. The olive shower will signalize Monday as the greatest Olive Day in the history of the State.

As the airplane soars over the city 10,000 certificates will be dropped. Of this number 250 special tickets, countersigned by The Times, will entitle the holders each to a quart package of ripe olives. Two of the tickets will be good for a capital prize which, upon presentation at The Times office, will entitle the holders to forty-eight pint cases of ripe olives.

The 250 lucky tickets must be exchanged at The Times office, First and Broadway, during next week.

will be submitted showing the balance sheets of a number of local merchants, covering the business transacted during the past year, with a view to discovering the profits and losses during that period, and whether any unusual or illegal profits were secured.

This line of investigation will be pursued for some time, it is stated, and the grand jury is likely to be in session until the United States Supreme Court passes on the constitutionality of the Lever law, or all hopes in that direction have been abandoned.

The inquiry as to the methods employed by several as yet unnamed former special agents of the Department of Justice, while on the hunt for reputed local profiteers, is not yet concluded. There does not appear to be any rush by the mulcted merchants to furnish the necessary evidence.

THE LAST OF EARTH.

Funeral services for Frank S. Wakerman, for years in charge of the Chicago and St. Louis offices of the Bishop & Babcock Company, who died Wednesday at his home, 1377 West Fortieth Place, of a complication of diseases, will be conducted at 3 p.m. today in the chapel of Utter & Ruppe. Mr. Wakerman, who was 74 years of age, was a life member of Cleveland Lodge, No. 18, B.P.O.E. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Wakerman, and a daughter, Mrs. Ralph C. Lane.

ORANGE SHOW SURPASSES ALL PREVIOUS DISPLAYS.

Great Winter Citriculture Exposition Opens at San Bernardino; Joy is Joined With Education.

Surpassing in number of exhibits and actual beauty displays of past years the eleventh annual National Orange Show opened last night at Urbita Park, San Bernardino, starting a ten-day round of pleasure in celebration of another bountiful harvest. About 10,000 people attended.

The show takes the visitor from Japan in cherry blossom time to San Francisco before the lights in the Tower of Jewels were dimmed. It lifts a shovel full of "white coal" from the snow-capped Sierra Nevadas, and sifts it over an acre of tents, producing an electrical spectacle which can best be described as a riot of color.

Ten orange shows have gone before it, but none reached the heights gained by this one. The Southland's great winter exposition of citriculture has finally reached outside the realm of mere county fair rack display of citrus fruits and has touched the borderland of the Mardi Gras. It combines art and animation, music and merriment, song and spectacle. It is more than a fruit show—it has grown to be an institution.

EFFECTIVE LIGHTING.

The illumination system is most effective. It begins at the main entrance, where indirect lighting, of green and red, with centerpiece lights of every hue, are constantly changing. The interior decorating smacks of the Far East, is somewhat Japanese, a little bit like China and yet considerable of the Occident. It is a symphony of color, in which the pink of thousands of cherry blossoms is intermingled with the ever-changing sparkle from three miles of colored beads, intertwined among the posts which support the mammoth tent. Enormous lanterns, four-sided and decorated with colorful transparencies, some with oriental emblems upon them, are hung on great chandeliers, connected with massive festoons of cherry blossoms. No less than 10,000 tungsten lamps add their brilliancy to the scene.

The orange show opened at 8 p.m. yesterday, after a group of prominent business and professional men from cities in the orange belt had dined at the Chocolate Palace in San Bernardino. J. E. Rich, president of the Orange Show, threw the switch which flooded the exposition with light and J. B. Gill, former Lieutenant-Governor of Illinois, delivered a brief opening address at the band stand in the main tent. F. Marshall Sanderson, trade envoy of the Chamber of Commerce of China, with headquarters at Shanghai, declared that China is looking to the United States for a tremendous extension of trade and that the great republic yearns to import oranges and lemons. A musical program by Gregory's Marine Band followed.

During the evening thousands of visitors from San Bernardino and all points in the fertile valleys adjacent thereto, visited the show, looked over the wonderful arrays of citrus fruits, and enjoyed the vaudeville program given in connection with the exposition. Hundreds availed themselves of the variety of entertainment provided by the Joy Zone, where scores of carnival features hold forth. Great interest was manifested in the auto show and industrial exhibit given in adjoining tents.

FINE CONCEPTIONS.

All but three of the feature exhibits in the main tent are of the motion type, turned constantly by electrical mechanism. Neither time nor money was spared in working out the finest conceptions of which fertile imaginations were capable.

The State Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside is deserving of special mention because of its complete display of varieties. Three hundred and fifty types of citrus fruit are on its display tables. They range from the tiny cumquat to the largest of navel oranges. Fresno county has provided a marvelous exhibit from the "Valley of the Sun." It shows a beautiful valley of hills, mountains and valleys, worked out with meadows of grass and hillsides of oranges and lemons, with lakes and rivers intervening, and hydroelectric power-houses scattered here and there, the power lines emanating therefrom illuminating the entire scene.

Riverside county has done the unusual by taking a full-grown orange tree to the show and mounting it on top of its exhibit. The San Gabriel Valley chambers of commerce have an artistic display worked out in the form of a great platform of oranges, lemons and grapefruit, with the Angel Gabriel, in full-sized figure, trumpeting at the top, and smaller angels hovering near.

GOES THE LIMIT.

The Pacific Electric Railway went the extreme limit in arranging its exhibit. It even built a spur track into the grounds, ran a big electric freight motor into the tent, and then removed the railroad track. The motor has been prettily decorated with a variety of fruits. The American Fruit Growers, Inc., has one whole corner of the show, with racks of fruits from all its districts, and a feature exhibit showing a great blue goose, with a gigantic golden ball of oranges beside it.

Every phase of citrus fruit growing and marketing is revealed in the combination feature display of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, and its big brother, the Fruit Growers' Supply Company. This exhibit goes clear back to the timber lands of Northern California, shows the logs sawed and made into boxes, the fruit grown in Southern California, packed with utmost care, and finally loaded for market.

Another attractive feature is that offered by Pasadena. It shows a miniature replica of the new Tournament Park stadium in cement. It looks like a small model of the Roman Coliseum. The Motor Transit Company added variety to the show yesterday by running in one of its big auto busses and covering it with golden fruit.

Scores of magnificent rack exhibits are shown, all testifying to the superiority of the Southland as a citrus fruit-growing section.

TEN-DAY SHOW.

The Orange Show will run for ten days and nights. Ideal weather is expected. Each day speakers of national prominence will give short addresses, well-known singers will entertain the visitors with songs, and vaudeville performers will add great variety to the program. The Joy Zone will doubtless be a popular attraction. Record-breaking attendance is expected.

Arrangements have been made to have the Long Beach Band play there on Tuesday. The Redlands High School Band will furnish music Monday evening and again on Redlands day, which is next Friday. This afternoon and evening Riverside people will turn out by hundreds to visit the Orange Show, and Southern California Editorial Association members will attend with their families.

At the dinner in the Chocolate Palace last night, just before the exposition opened, the following were present: T. C. Peck, general passenger agent of the Salt Lake road; F. S. McGinnis of the Southern Pacific; O. A. Smith, C. J. Day and E. H. Sharpe of the Pacific Electric, F. Marshall Sanderson of Shanghai, China; Dr. G. S. Clements of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, D. J. Shultis of the San Gabriel Valley Associated Chambers of Commerce, W. H. Johnson of San Dimas, A. W. Swain of Whittier, B. L. Graves of Los Angeles, Mayor A. E. Brock of Redlands, Don Francisco, advertising manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange; G. R. Gorton of San Diego, F. B. Howell of the Motor Transit Company, R. C. Allen of Bonita and C. P. Earley, general manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors.

HIGH BAIL FIXED FOR GIRL CASE.

Judge Says He's Sorry He Cannot Sentence Man Held on Serious Charges.

Following testimony which disclosed a remarkable condition said to have existed at the house of Harry Wheeler at 717 Kohler street, Justice Hanby yesterday held Wheeler to answer on two charges of statutory offenses against two young girls.

"This is one of the most flagrant cases of violation of this law I have ever known," said the court, after raising bail from $5000 to $10,000 and committing the defendant to the County Jail. "It is the worst case brought to my attention and the proof is most positive. I am sorry I cannot pronounce sentence upon you, instead of merely holding you to answer."

Testimony indicated that Wheeler induced girls about 14 years of age to go to his house and there taught them forbidden practices. It was stated in court that sailors frequented the place. Young boys were also said to have been induced to go to the house.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hill, who prosecuted the case, asked the court to increase bail and the request was granted. Velmae Kildae, aged 16, and Raydel Ramey, aged 15, were witnesses against Wheeler.

AGED AND ILL; ENDS LIFE.

Failing eyesight and poor health yesterday caused the suicide of James L. Conklin, 85 years of age, of 1316 Dewey avenue. He shot himself and was found in his bedroom by his sister. The body is at the Pierce undertaking rooms.

OTHER-WOMAN STORY CAUSE OF WRECKAGE

"Big Bertha" Cleans House of Swain; Even Chases Him Out Minus Trousers.

"Big Bertha" Lowe, a frequent though reluctant visitor at the City Jail, cleaned house last night. The domicile was not her own, but the one occupied by George Henderson, negro politician and a prominent figure in the Mayor Woodman indictment case.

"Big Bertha," a negro woman who has appeared in the City Jail more times than she can remember, was once on very friendly terms with Mr. Henderson. She learned yesterday, she says, that he is now "keeping company" with another woman, so she paid him a personal call last night at his home, 826 East Santa Barbara avenue.

Then came the riot call.

Neighbors sent in frantic calls to University Station. An earthquake or something equally as devastating was occurring in the vicinity, they said. Two loads of police, headed by Lieut. Hagenbaugh, Sergt. Hodgson and Officers Holt and Cazier, hastened to the scene. They found Henderson's home wrecked. All the windows had been smashed, more than $1000 worth of cut glassware lay in fragments on the floor, mirrors were broken, the chandeliers had been jerked from the walls, furniture was splintered and remnants of flower pots and ferns lay in pulverized heaps on the floor.

And in the midst of the wreckage triumphantly stood "Big Bertha" wielding a frying pan. She said George had tried to tear a diamond ring from her finger. Then she started to clean house.

She was alone in the house. George and the other woman had vanished. Neighbors said the big negro had fled from the typhoon minus his shirt and his trousers. According to the police, he is still going.

As "Big Bertha" is suspected by the police of having participated in a hold-up a few weeks ago, she was booked at Central Station on a charge of grand larceny.

HAS TO EXPAND.

Because of increasing business, the Community Thrift Shop, which is operated by the Council of Community Service, will hereafter occupy both rooms Nos. 218 and 219 in the Coulter Building, it was announced yesterday. Mrs. Leon Conklin, the new secretary, states that departments for the sale of millinery, china and home-made candy have been added to by the shop.

GAY TAVERN ON ROAD TO SEA LOCKED.

Harlow Quits Business on Vernon Club Example; Asks to be Allowed to Sell.

Following the example of Jerry Strayer, manager of the Vernon Country Club, in closing his place pending the action in the Federal court to have it shut up by an order of the court as a common nuisance, C. Fred Harlow, similarly charged with Strayer, who has been conducting what is known as Harlow's Tavern, on Washington Boulevard between Culver City and Venice, has locked the doors of his resort and thrown the keys away.

Harlow has made a proposition to U. S. Atty. O'Connor that the pending charge against him be allowed to ride until he can dispose of the place, but no action will be taken on that proposition until the District Attorney sees to whom he sells it.

If Harlow succeeds in selling it to someone who will use it for a residence, or for some purpose clearly not in attempted violation of the law, the charge against Harlow may either be filed away indefinitely or dismissed. But he will not be allowed to operate the place while it is presumably in the name of somebody else. It will never be conducted as a rendezvous for men and women in search of booze or a roadhouse, the authorities say.

Pupils Injured as School Bus Strikes Truck.

Two high school pupils were injured and several were bruised and shaken up yesterday afternoon when a school bus, driven by Allen McComb of Monterey Park, and filled with students from Alhambra High School, collided with a truck driven by T. C. Jones, at Garfield avenue and Ocean-to-Ocean highway. Ted Strong, 350 Ramona Boulevard, Wilmar, suffered a fractured right leg, severe injuries to the other leg and several cuts and bruises. He was taken to the Alhambra Hospital. Dorothy Fulton of Monterey Park also was injured and received medical attention before being taken to her home.

According to Desk Sergeant McAinney of the Alhambra police, the accident occurred about 4:15 p.m. and the school bus struck the truck which belonged to the Valley Feed and Fuel Company, San Gabriel. Witnesses of the crash declared the view of the driver was cut off by some of the children who were crowded around him in the bus, the police report shows.

IS DEATH'S VICTIM.

Mrs. Ethel Rives, wife of Edward L. Rives of Downey, died suddenly at her residence late Thursday night. Mrs. Rives was ill with pneumonia and appeared to be recovering when she sank. Mr. Rives is the eldest son of Judge Rives. No funeral arrangements have yet been made.

CHILD'S GUARDIAN SETTLES FOR HURT.

An automobile owned by James O. Sword and driven by W. M. Rains, struck Mary Hasson, 9 years old, and injured her. The child sued both owner and driver through her guardian, David Hasson. When the case was called for trial in Judge Crail's court yesterday it was stated that a settlement of $150 had been made and judgment was entered.

FRIDAY MORNING CLUB "RAIDED."

Overcrowding at Lecture Brings Officers.

Uniformed Men Clear Aisles After Warnings.

Moving Tale of Reprisals for "Swiped" Seat.

Its members betrayed into a violation of the city fire laws through an intensity of attention to an address by John Davidson, noted actor, the Friday Morning Club was "raided" yesterday by uniformed officers of the fire department.

Mr. Davidson, speaking on the life and works of August Strindberg, drew a capacity audience. All seats were filled. Women were lined along the side walls and in the rear.

A belated member, more interested in Strindberg than in fire ordinances, placed a chair in an aisle and prepared to listen to such erudition as might be vouchsafed by the speaker. A telephone summoned this member momentarily from her vantage place.

When she returned another sat comfortably in her chair. Arguments ensued. The interloper refused to budge. The conversation reached a certain point beyond which no ladylike member of the Friday Morning Club should care to go. Then, it appears, reprisals were sought.

Possibly the indignant and unseated member called Main 2395. At all events, however, four blue-clad firemen with large, shining badges and embarrassed do-or-die expressions forced their way into the packed auditorium.

One, rendered more bold by nature or vested with greater official authority than his mates, advanced through the press of women to the platform and handed to Mrs. O. Shepard Barnum, president of the club, a formal paper.

Mrs. Barnum glanced in surprise at the document and then turned her gaze toward the sea of upturned and politely curious faces before her.

"I must ask the members to clear the aisles," she said.

This request was followed by a slow murmur among the members, but the aisles did not clear. The request was repeated. No action.

"For the third time," appealed Mrs. Barnum, "I ask you to clear the aisles." For a third time the Friday Morning Club members failed to respond. The four brave men in blue then courteously, but firmly, and with a charming air of performing well a duty most unpleasant, proceeded to rearrange Mr. Davidson's audience so as to comply with municipal fire statutes.

In time the work was accomplished. Considerable indignation was expressed and the firemen departed as the members once more settled down for further enlightenment on Strindberg.

"As I was saying before we were pinched," began Mr. Davidson—and he then continued his discourse.

BISHOP COOKE, NOTED AUTHOR, TO LECTURE.

SIX TALKS UNDER AUSPICES OF UNIVERSITY TO BE OPEN TO PUBLIC.

Bishop Richard J. Cooke, author of the recently pulished "The Church and World Peace," which has attracted wide attention and is included in the reference works of the Secretary of Education and Fine Arts of France, is in Los Angeles to give a course of six lectures under the auspices of the University of Southern California, beginning Monday evening in the University Methodist Church and continuing each evening during the week.

Bishop Cooke's lectures are expected to attract wide attention, as he is internationally famous as one of the most thoroughly equipped men for the discussion of theological subjects. His lectures will be based on the general topic, "The Silence of St. Paul Concerning the Virgin Birth." In regard to this subject the bishop says, "If this is a historical fact, why are all the writers except two of the New Testament silent on the matter. It is not a matter of faith and good will —you have to deliver the goods and show positive facts."

The bishop is a graduate of the Eastern Tennessee Wesleyan University and received his D.D. degree at the University of Tennessee and the L.L. D. degree from Willamette University. He entered the Methodist ministry in 1873 and was a professor, vice-chancellor and later acting president of Grant University. Later still he was the editor of the Methodist Advocate Journal, book editor of the Methodist church, representative of the denomination at many European conferences and a member of many of the important commissions of the church.

In addition to his recent popular volume he is the author of "Doctrine of the Resurrection." "Christianity and Childhood," "The Historic Episcopate," "History of Ritual," "Christ and the Critics," "Digest of Judicial Decisions of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church," "Incarnation and Recent Criticism," and "Freedom of Thought in Religious Teaching."

Bishop Cooke will address the ministers' meeting Monday morning on "World Peace," with special reference to California problems.

The public is invited to attend the evening lectures to be given under the auspices of the university.

TWO MUST FACE TRIAL TOGETHER.

Former Pasadena Banker is Loser on All but One Point in Court Plea.

By a decision of U. S. District Judge Bledsoe yesterday, Edward J. Pyle, former vice-president of the National Bank and Trust Company of Pasadena, jointly indicted with W. J. Conner, former head of Master Pictures, Inc., charged with violation of the national banking laws, does not get his asked-for severance from Conner in the trial of the case and his plea for a copy of the bill of particulars is denied except as to one point. This is as to the single inquiry, how was the $6000 referred to in the first count of the indictment applied to the benefit of W. J. Conner? The court holds that in all conscience the defendant, Pyle, should be informed as to this point.

On the question of the bill of particulars, Judge Bledsoe said he could not bring himself to believe that in the furtherance of justice the motion should be granted. The real question, he stated, is whether Pyle knew that the drafts referred to would not be paid, and knew that Conner was perpetrating a fraud on the bank. Proof of such knowledge, if it did exist, would arise or develop as an inference from other facts adduced in evidence, it was pointed out further.

The denial of the motion, however, does not prevent the United States Attorney from giving to Pyle such information respecting matters of evidence as he may see fit to communicate. The defendant and his counsel also will be allowed to inspect the books of the bank.

On the question of the severance of the defendants, Judge Bledsoe declared that the affairs of both are so involved that he cannot see how they can be tried apart.

FOR VETERANS' HOME FUND

To arouse a greater interest in the effort to found in this city a permanent home for the 4000 disabled soldiers of the World War now here, the Council of Community Service of California announces a meeting to be held tomorrow afternoon at Trinity Auditorium at 2:30 o'clock, when such speakers as Irvin S. Cobb, Rupert Hughes and Capt. David Sallon, author of "The Great Flight," will make addresses.

The meeting, which will be open to the public, is to be under the auspices of the Council of Community Service, which is to undertake a campaign on March 1 to raise a fund for the purpose of either building or buying a suitable building for the home.

Mrs. J. T. Anderson, chairman of the Council of Community Service, and Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, vice-chairman, have been trying to arouse interest in the proposed institution and in assisting disabled heroes of the war to find appropriate lodgings and to have vocational training that will fit them for self-supporting work.

Since the three noted writers have been in this city their interest has been secured in the cause and they have consented to talk to the people of Los Angeles.

Rev. J. H. Francis will preside at the meeting, and will relate some of his overseas experiences.

Mitchell's request for more time was denied, the vote being: Against Mr. Mitchell and Hearst, Councilmen Criswell, Farmer, Langdon, Sanborn and President Workman; for granting Mr. Mitchell's request, Mallard and Wheeler. The action by the City Council yesterday removed the Municipal Art Commission as a factor in the efforts of the Examiner and Herald to use the city government to wreak Hearst's vengeance on the business men of the city who do not grant the demands for advertising made by the New York publisher. The five Councilmen who voted against Mitchell declared that the art commissioners had shown they had definitely made up their minds on the matter and that a further time extension was unnecessary.

QUICK ACTION.

The snuffing out by the Council of Mr. Mitchell's efforts required but a few moments, Mr. Mitchell asked for an extension of time required by the city charter, under which action by the Municipal Art Commission on the Bullock's permit would be legal. This time limit expires at midnight Monday. Mr. Mitchell asked for an extension until March 5. His reference to losing his support referred, he said, to the interview with City Engineer Griffin published in yesterday morning's Times in which Maj. Griffin condemned the tactics of Mr. Mitchell and stated that if the commission were authorized under the law to vote on the plans at this time, he (Maj. Griffin) would vote to approve them.

The City Council is now awaiting a report from the appraisers of the Los Angeles Realty Board as to the correct value of the space to be used by Bullock's over and under St. Vincent's Place. Councilman Farmer, who introduced the resolution calling on the appraisers for a statement, said he did so in order to secure the facts for the records of the Council and for the public, on account of the many misstatements of the alleged value of the space as made in the Examiner and Herald.

VALUE OF SPACE.

Experienced real estate men interviewed yesterday declared that the rental value of the entire space to be used by Bullock's over and under St. Vincent's Place would not exceed $400 a month. The Hearst papers, in their joint campaign against the improvement, have given false estimates of the rental value as high as $43,000 a year.

Agents of Mr. Hearst yesterday set up headquarters on two soap boxes on the sidewalk directly under Mayor Snyder's window, where they endeavored to secure signatures to two initiative petitions, one to tear down the Bullock's connecting structure built in 1917, and the other petition revoking the permit of 1918 authorizing the present construction now being built. The young men said that they were being paid 4 cents for each signature obtained.

It was estimated yesterday by those who were familiar with the task of gathering signatures for initiative petitions that the Examiner will pay agents for securing petitions containing sufficient names not less than $1000. The checking of the names on the petitions if they are ever submitted will cost the taxpayers about $600 or $700. If it be found that the petitions contain sufficient names, the City Council will by a majority vote refuse to pass the destructive ordinances called for by the petitions, and it will then be necessary, under the law, to call a special election, at a cost to the taxpayers of between $40,000 or $50,000, to act on the two measures submitted by Hearst.

STEEL COMPANY SEEKS IDEAS FOR BEST WAY TO BUILD CONCRETE ROADS.

An experiment with roads which will be tried out by the Columbia Steel Company of Pittsburg, Cal., is interesting road engineers over the State. Yesterday N. A. Becker, representing the steel company, called on Chairman Dodge of the Board of Supervisors and explained the desire of the company to have Road Engineer Jones suggest the best plan of road. Suggestions will also be received from Engineers throughout the State.

The ideas from these engineers will be embodied in building a concrete road, each section representing one of the suggested plans.

The company will construct the sectional road within their property at Pittsburg and run light and heavy vehicles over it. At the end of the test, it will be easy to observe which section best stood the experiment and the idea is to adopt specifications for this best section as standard for road work throughout the State.

The company makes concrete reinforcing steel. This steel will be used in one of the sections.

Mr. Jones stated yesterday that the idea of this sectional road appealed to him. He will probably be sent to Pittsburg at the beginning of the road building.

FALLS TO HIS DEATH.

Accident in Baptist Church Fatal to Elderly Man.

S. A. Burrowes, 963 Magnolia avenue, is dead from injuries received in a fall at the First Baptist Church last Saturday. He had gone to the church to attend a meeting, and in trying to find a certain room, opened a door at the rear of the organ on the balcony, and stepped in, falling some fifteen feet. He suffered a cerebral lesion, from which severe convulsions developed.

He was 75 years of age, and a former resident of Fort Wayne, Ind., from which place he removed in 1904. He leaves a widow, a son and a daughter.

Funeral services for him were conducted yesterday at Forest Lawn Cemetery by the Westlake Lodge of Masons, of which he was a member.

FOR SEPARATE SUPPORT.

Florence Barrett Rutherford filed suit for separate maintenance yesterday against Nathaniel B. Rutherford, charging that Mr. Rutherford, who is an attorney, left her in San Francisco and has refused to provide for her. Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford were married April 19, 1916, and the separation occurred in October, 1918. They have one child, who is now said to be ill in a hospital.

CLEANING UP.

All the whiskers that come from Southern Europe are to be thoroughly steamed and disinfected. That will help a bit on our immigration problems.

THE WORM TURNS.

The traveling men talk of an organized boycott of such hotels as practice prolonged profiteering. They say it is about time for a reduction in the price of food and lodging. It doesn't cost as much to run a hotel as it did in recent times and the traveling man object to the continuous milking process. They'll go on a hunger strike before they yield. It would be funny to see a wayfarer like Irv Cobb on a hunger strike.

GOOD PICKERS.

Husband picked out a nice-looking girl to help the wife in her housekeeping. Wife said she didn't need help, but the husband insisted. He wanted to make it easy for the wife, but the woman preferred to do her own work. Now there is a divorce. Who is to blame? The wife says the husband was too good a picker and chose the girl for her looks rather than her industry. The husband says his efforts at making housekeeping easy are not appreciated. Result: Another domestic romance has gone on the rocks. The minute a man tries to pick anything but a wife he is open to trouble. When he picks a wife he is almost certain of it. When he picks on his wife it is a dead cinch.

ONE-SIDED.

Looks as if women had about all the property and other rights that they have coming to them, anyhow. If they don't take away a man's job they lie in wait for his pay envelope. If he gets sore about it the wife gets a divorce and the judge lets her have the envelope under the name of alimony. How many men are drawing alimony from divorced wives? You don't know a blooming one. It's all the other way. A man or his money doesn't get the ghost of a show when they're in the courts with a woman on the other side. If a man speaks kindly to the cashier of the lunchroom he must pay her $7000 for breach of promise. If he marries her he loses anyhow and has to mortgage his stuff to pay her the $90 a month the court orders. Talk about women's rights! Give the men a show.

BORAHEAN BLASTS.

Senator Borah serves notice on President-elect Harding that he is still unmuzzled. Any plan to bring about the disarmament of the United States Senate will be industriously opposed by him to the last ditch. For the rights, privileges, perquisites and prestige of the aforesaid Senate he will give battle even to the end. He favors a naval holiday for Japan, but there will not be any hiatus for the United States. That impressive body will never sleep. It has its big guns lighored up for a broadside at any hour. There is eternal preparedness in that direction. If the new President has a naval program or a foreign policy that does not meet with the approval of the Senator from Idaho, that worthy will not hesitate to sail into the open and fire both barrels. When shrinking violets were being grown Senator Borah was a million miles away. He will not hide under a bushel—nor under two bushels, for that matter. They may take the government apart in sections or blow it up in a lump, but Senator Borah will still be a voice.

OLIVE DAY.

There's a young lady in the East Side named Olive Day and she thinks that the Monday observance of Olive Day in California must have something to do with her own piquant self. But Olive Day is rather a commercial proposition and its real purpose is to extend the gospel of the ripened olive into every home. The olive is something more than a garnish or an appetizer. It is a real food and one of the finest flesh builders that ever came to the table. And look what it does to the cheeks! Is there anything sweeter in the world than a girl with a rich olive complexion with a blush coming to the surface? If you know a maid with an olive skin tell her something to make her blush and then watch her cheeks. They will show all the beauty of an Avalon sunrise. Olives are the finest things in the world for the complexion. Ask any dealer or grower. The green olive is still a relish, but the ripe olive is meat and drink. A bucketful of ripe olives contains 2.75 more vitamines than a boned ham. We don't know exactly what a vitamine is, but it is said to be good for the liver and complexion. Old Dr. Bones says that the claim that olives have aught to do with the complexion is ridiculous, but he is himself a back number and doesn't know what he is talking about. Look at the dancing beauties in the Mission Play! Did you ever see more glorious complexions? Every one of the girls eats a double handful of ripe olives with every meal. Puts pep and color in 'em. Ask Mr. McGroarty. Adam lived on olives for the first seventy years of his life. Eve had the most wonderful complexion of her time. There was no fall until Adam and Eve commenced monkeying with apples, prunes and other fodder. If they had stuck to olives we would all be in the Garden of Eden today instead of being merely at Edendale. Ask Mack Sennett.

STILL ON THE JOB.

William Jennings Bryan is once more anxious to reorganize the Democratic party. He essays this so often that it may be asked whether he undertakes it as a sport or a business. But, be it as it may, the Democratic party is almost always in need of reorganization and there stands Bryan—like Horatius at the bridge—ready to meet all comers or fill any breach.

The Nebraskan plays with the party much as would a sleight-of-hand man. First he disorganizes it and takes it apart. He wants to see what makes it tick. Having picked it to pieces and left its bleached ribs on the shore, he goes forth once more with his monkey wrench and a needle and thread and poses as the apostle of reorganization. He will show the party can be put together again.

It is like assembling a jig-saw puzzle.

In the present case he makes it plain that the reorganization must be in the interest of no candidate. Of course, if the situation demands an eloquent Nebraskan for the leadership, that is another matter, but it must be understood that the reorganization is to be around a set of principles and not a man—especially a man like James M. Cox.

To make his meaning plain Col. Bryan is at pains to express and expound the principles to which he refers. Mr. Wilson had only fourteen points in his plan to make the world safe for democracy; but Col. Bryan has twenty-two planks in the platform in which he hopes to re-establish the Democratic party in America.

Above all else the Democracy must be freed from any domination on the part of the wets or of Wall street and must have for its backbone the great middle class of the country.

Thus far there wouldn't seem to be much need for poor old Democracy. The Republican party seems to better fill the bill and the great middle class has no call to switch its vote. But Col. Bryan now goes a bit farther. He would at once call the nations of the earth together and, after a few bright and impressive remarks by the foremost citizen of Nebraska—who now has his home in Florida—there would be an agreement for a bone-dry world, a dismemberment of armies and a dismantling of navies. Military training would be forbidden and the battle-axes should be beaten up into pie tins. Any man in the world carrying a more deadly tool than a safety razor would be sunk without trace.

It is all so deliciously simple that it is a wonder nobody ever thought of it before.

Furthermore, it is deemed that no Presidential term shall exceed six years—thus making it impossible for any ambitious or opinionated Wilson to succeed himself. Under this ruling Col. Bryan would have been President for eighteen years if he had obtained all he ran for, but under his platform this doesn't count, and after his valuable experience as a candidate he would be the logical leader on the platform he has so thoughtfully provided. A man can run forever, but he can be President but once.

By the time Col. Bryan gets his reorganization of the Democratic party well under way the leaders of that faith will be unable to speak to one another and the rank and file will continue to vote the Republican ticket.

Col. Bryan is one of the best assets the Republican party ever had.

CARROTS OR AIRPLANES?

The aerial mail service item was stricken from the agricultural appropriation bill in the House and a place was found for the regular $350,000 free-seed item in the measure.

Congress still seems more interested in small matters than in large, in crawling than in flying. It is willing to chop off urgent but unchampioned items, but careful to protect the old and petty sops to the public so dear to the professional politician.

The aerial mail service is important for what it is actually accomplishing, but, above all, for what it will accomplish in the way of encouraging proficiency and development in flying. A new transportation age is at hand, and it will doubtless center around the use of the air. What excuse, then, can there be for choking off the only organized long-distance air service in America while thousands of dollars are wasted on seeds that no one appreciates and that never germinate?

For the last half a century this petty work has been indulged in by small men in Congress, who invariably slip in this appropriation at the last minute and as a rider, with the result that the big men have to waste valuable time and risk really important items if they are to make a fight against it. They feel that it is better to waste a quarter of a million dollars than to encourage wavering Representatives to oppose some large project or to entangle the business of the House by lengthy debates on the relative value of the carrot and the cabbage in the American garden.

It would be a good idea for the people to begin sending these franked packages back to their Congressmen, reminding them that they are expected to be too busy about matters of importance to be peddling seeds. The fault really rests with the public, for it gives its Representatives only very rarely encouragement to go ahead and fight for big issues, but is ever ready to lower the dignity and the value of Congress by using it as a ration counter.

There is still time, however, and the most urgent need for action with a view to saving the air service. The Senate would put the appropriation for that important branch back in the agricultural bill if it were given the slightest encouragement. As it is, it is probable that the same indifference and smallness which caused it to be stricken from the bill in the House will allow it to be left out when the Senate makes its final decision.

Los Angeles is particularly interested in seeing this air service continued and strengthened. The difficulties of the route from Omaha to San Francisco are so great from a physical and climatic standpoint that it is practically certain that the western terminus for the service will be changed from San Francisco to Los Angeles if the appropriation for the continuation of the flights is secured. Most of the aerial experts have testified or stated that the route now used is needlessly dangerous and that the southern route is the one which must eventually be resorted to.

But Los Angeles and the entire nation should have an interest in this matter which transcends narrow questions of local advantage or community pride. The aerial mail service, with its thirty planes constantly on the go and with its demonstration of the possibilities of further advances in air service from the commercial standpoint, is the pace-setter for a new epoch.

Shall we silently allow politicians to clip the wings of the future in order that they may have a little more money to waste on seeds?

CENSORSHIP AGAIN?

Reports that an effort will be made to revive governmental censorship of international news only serve to call to mind afresh one of the colossal blunders of the World War. The censorship for the administration under George Creel was a ludicrous performance. And even if it had been fully successful in time of war there would be no excuse for a return to it in peace days.

There has been far too little play of opinion between this country and Europe. When we needed an immediate reflection of public opinion on both sides of the Atlantic we have had for months only a trickle of ideas, and the bitterest words have been too often the only ones to develop carrying power. This was due to the fact that the various governments are still assuming the old distrustful attitude toward giving out news and, in addition, the organs of opinion have been so accustomed to blinders that they are blinking and groping in the full glare of almost forgotten freedom.

To resume such a policy, undoubtedly necessary in a crisis, would only result now in perpetuating the artificial relationships between the nations which must sooner or later get on speaking and listening terms if the peace of the world is to have a firm foundation in mutual understanding and good will.

At no time since the gathering and dissemination of news became a science has there been a greater need for letting all nations have the facts regarding all other nations. Such a policy carries with it the danger of the abuse of its freedom by the press, just as the abuse by the individual of his freedom is always possible under a system based on liberty. It must not be forgotten, however, that freedom of the press is just as much a part of the foundation upon which our republic rests as is the freedom of the individual expressed in any other way, for the press is not something apart from the individual, but simply a means by which individuals can make themselves heard.

If we enter into competition with other powers to see which government can keep its people most completely in the dark the power of false news, which is at the root of the agitation for resumption of the censorship, will increase tenfold overnight. On the other hand, so long as nations are acting in good faith toward one another no real damage can be done by printing all readable news. As soon as any nation gets in an ugly mood toward the peace of the world it is best to have that attitude reflected in the columns of every newspaper.

The nation which has the right course in mind cannot be seriously injured by the unscrupulous publisher, for the unscrupulous publisher never stood lower in the public estimate than today. His false and frothing attacks upon individuals or upon entire nations generally strengthen rather than weaken those at whom the assaults are aimed, as is shown by the outcome of the Hearst raid in New York upon Dr. Manning and by the result of the equally malicious and selfish attack by Hearst's local organs upon Bullock's.

Let the play of opinion in this country be free and without hindrance. Those newspapers that try to live up to the ideals of the profession are entitled to the fullest opportunity to serve. Those which forever hiss lies through their poisoned teeth receive their punishment in the universal contempt in which they are held.

STABILIZED OPTIMISM.

We Americans inherit optimism and hope. Our cities and farms are the materialization, in a very ideal way, of ancestral paradigms and visions. We believe in ourselves and in all we survey; but while we are proud of this optimism and the proven basis of it, we should know that it, like the athlete's heart, can be overdeveloped and thus become a source of weakness. An inordinate optimism may set up a self-righteousness and self-admiration that render the discernment of idealism in itself a very difficult feat.

We are unconscious idealists living under an impulse of materiality started by our grandfathers. They wrestled with stubborn nature and overcame it. They had the hope of great things for their country and we realized them in part; but in that realization we sometimes forget the ultimate goal, and in that forgetfulness we attack, with righteous indignation, every informer who seeks to explain that we have the faults of a youthful country and that our optimism is not on the best of all foundations.

He is not necessarily a pessimist who tells us that while we were fighting the material world and gaining a sturdy maturity there we starved our inner life and remained mere infants in the realm of the spiritual. A sympathetic American critic has said that the books demanded by us are mature in body, but childlike in their mental and spiritual motivation. Writers, fearing that an honest expression of their thoughts would offend our optimistic complacency, ladle out a few ideas at a time, simplified to the level of the nursery. Something simple and pleasant is what we demand and that is what we get. Our reality must be sweetened or discarded. We want our formless wishes fulfilled according to the moods of fairyland. Yet the moods of fairyland have no more chance for life in our sophisticated atmosphere than lilies on the desert.

We have been overfeeding on gross materialism. We do not wish to believe that there is social disease and physical degeneration in America, because our inherited optimism sees a glorious future. It is the spirit of the pioneer, the gold seeker, the conquerer of savage men and primordial conditions that lives in us still. We do not yet clearly understand that psychic prairies and psychic Indians challenge us to more deadly combats than our ancestors ever waged. We simply do not wish to believe that this is true. Neither do we see that spiritual growth is impossible while we are afraid to face the new mental world that is taking form around us. To be sure we will not be afraid very long, and when we do at last face this new world we will conquer all the foes therein. At present, however, we call this new world the realm of the pessimist because it is full of strange and unwelcome things. We are driving many good writers and artists to other lands. They go seeking sincerity, artistic freedom and a fair hearing. They could teach us, but we will not listen. Their departure means our loss. They go at a time when America is groping around for an expression of its newborn national consciousness. We know instinctively that "bubbles of illusion and the pap of pretty lies" cannot prefigure to us our national soul, but we dread the pangs of weaning.

The mind of the world is very sick. It suffers poignantly from war shock. Whole nations are in despair, and a reversion to barbarism is taking place in many lands, which only yesterday knew the blessings of law and order. At such a time it is vital that we scrutinize our optimism and satisfy ourselves that it is stabilized; that it is not afraid of unpleasant facts and that it has something more dynamic in its heart than an infantile enthusiasm.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.

This may not be the "stone age," but it is almost the fig-leaf age.

The world is wrong, dead wrong. It mistakes hell-raising for enjoyment.

Jewell Republican says something. "The best place to live is within your income."

The best doctors will tell you that good judgment will cure your ill about as quick as medicine will.

Pause to consider. While you are saying mean things about the peculiar ways of your neighbors, they probably are telling some unpleasant truths about you.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE BUSY BARD.

I punch my lyre to buy a tire or sparkplugs for my flivver; I sing a lay to purchase hay and gas and beans and liver. The poet knows but small repose, these days of stress and straining; he works the muse for overshoes to wear when it is raining. He swats the harp to buy a carp to feed his aunts and nieces; he turns out loads of hot stuff odes on ancient Romes and Greeces. And grocers say, "That rhyming jay takes life so beastly easy, while we must hump or hit the dump where go the bankrupts cheesey." And plumbers sigh as they go by, "That poet's graft's a daisy; he merely sits and throws his fits and he is fat and lazy; and we poor ginks fix busted sinks and faucets that are leaking, and when we're done and ask our mon the patron's always shrieking." As people walk I hear them talk about the snap I'm owning; I bask at ease and write my wheeze while working men are groaning. But, oh, the times when decent rhymes won't come, for all my trying, when my old dome won't frame a pome that men might call undying! The barren days when cheer-up lays it seems cannot be written! The ghastly nights when he who writes is by the brain-fag smitten! Oh, then the bard would deal in lard or plumb with plumbers, gayly, if he could soak the harp whose smoke has risen yearly, daily.

OUR SUNNY FRIEND

The Difference.

About the spolledest kid in town
Belongs to Harry Lowe.
You'd surely want to thrash him,
The way he hollers, "No."
The way he yells, "I want some more!"
And stamps his foot upon the floor.

But my boy now, of course, at times,
I let him have his way.
He's smart, and if cowed down too much,
I'd surely rue the day.
And then he says, "No," so astutely
And brings his small foot down so 'cutely.

About the roughest kid in town
Belongs to Harry Lowe.
His red chair has the legs all off,
His kiddie-kar won't go.
Last week I saw him strip the paper
From off Lowe's walls, a devilish caper.

But my boy now, well, I'll admit,
He busted up his drum
Before noontime of Christmas Day;
He poked his dear small thumb
Into the Simkins baby's eye
To see if blood would come.
But all so cleverly, my Jim,
No one would want to punish him.

The Shifting Sands of Time.

Grandpa Dollarhide says there's one good old-fashioned custom that has disappeared and he hates to see it go, for it shows that the Americans aren't the brothers they once were.

He refers to the custom of recommending remedies to the afflicted.

During the past week his rheumatism has bothered him so that he has had to walk with a cane. He has spent ten hours a day for the seven days of the week hobbling up and down Main street and not a soul has taken enough interest in him to recommend some pet remedy of his own to him.

In the old days it wouldn't have been that way.

Far from it. He can remember when his father used to bring home as high as ten cures for the tetter from a single trip to the postoffice, and one Fourth of July his mother had lumbago and she brought home twenty-seven prescriptions to knock it out with, from the Slater picnic.

Billie Lale was joy riding the other night.

As he made a turn and came out on the foothill boulevard he saw a light swinging violently just ahead of him.

"Hold-ups or kidnapers, more than likely," he said to his guest, "watch me fix 'em," and Billie speeded up to his limit. There was a smash and a bang and a lot of flying splinters and turnips.

When he came to himself he found the supposed kidnaper to be a Jap vegetable peddler who had tried to ward off danger by tying a lantern to his end gate.

Willing to Keep Going.

"There is no rest," old maxims say,
"For wicked ones," well, in my day
With quite a few I've come in touch

A Hard Jolt.

Fate hands out some hard jolts at times to the sons of men, and there was Jefferson Kinnamon. There wasn't a prouder family, I guess, in Missouri before the Civil War than the Kinnamons, and Jeff, six foot, brown-eyed, curly-headed, olive-complexioned, was the proudest of the bunch.

They had land and negroes and ancestry which they could trace back to Cromwell's day, so they had a right to be proud.

And you'd have thought any negro would have been proud to belong to the Kinnamons, and most of them were, but you never can please everybody. Ben, an octoroon, spoiled by prosperity, likely, for he had been a houseman when he might have been a field hand, and had tended Ben to college when he might have been mauling rails, took a notion one night and lit out for freedom.

The Ray County Democrat ran off a bunch of handbills and the four Kinnamon brothers set off in the four directions of the compass to see what trace they could get of the ingrate.

About sundown of the next day Jeff had just tacked a handbill on the door of the Lexington City Hall and was admiring the way it set on the panel when he heard a voice:

"Say, boy, I certainly admire your nerve."

He looked up to find himself on a line with the business end of a six-shooter. The city marshal was at the other end.

He sized Jeff up for the runaway. He was dark and tall and his hair had just about the same amount of wave in it as Ben's. Arguing didn't have any effect on Mister Marshal. Jeff spent the night in the Lexington jail and next day he rode sadly homeward with his captor watchfully bringing up the rear.

It just happened that they didn't meet any one who knew Jeff until they rode down the avenue of trees that led to the Kinnamon home.

Then Jeff was turned loose with profuse apologies. But apologies healed not Jeff's broken spirit. He had been taken for a negro. He could never face his fellow-Missourians again. He sold his share of Kinnamon Acres, changed his name and came West. THREE FALL.

Temptation Windows.

In a small Indiana town the Methodist church has stained-glass windows on the bottom panels of which are printed verses of Scripture. One that 6-year-old Willie has been able to decipher, and from the effort remembers well, goes: "And lead us not into temptation."

Not long after, his mother took him to visit an old friend who had built an expensive new home. Now, in the hall there were two high windows and both of them were made of orange-colored glass. When they entered that room Willie stared and stared, but said nothing. But that night when he told his father all about the new house he remembered the orange windows and said: "And oh, dad, they're awfully religious. They've got those windows that keep out temptation."—[Indianapolis News.

And the Peste fever appears to be passing. Glory be!

There is to be a national association of "Those Who Have Been Married."

Why not have a "Courtesy Week" in Los Angeles? Nothing pays better dividends.

The closing of the Vernon Country Club shows that The Times knows what it goes after.

Is this the day that Herbert Hoover gets, or does not get, a job in the Harding Cabinet?

If the local police want to find a few of the choice poker games, why don't they hire a bandit?

Personally, we do not believe in worry about the debts of Germany. We have a few of our own.

With the reduction in the price of clothes trousers are not to be worn as long as they used to be.

Col. Bryan says he will not attempt to reorganize the Democratic party. More power to you, Bill.

The only eclipse of the sun this year amounting to much is to be the growing shadow of the income tax collector.

Enrico Caruso's illness is attracting the attention of the world. Enrico never sang to so large a crowd in his career.

While the railroad men are asking rates, why didn't they think about raising the windows. Everybody knows that cannot be done.

When Gilbert K. Chesterton comes to Los Angeles on his lecture tour he will have plenty of opportunity to get material for an essay on "The Prohibition Prohibit"?

There will be plenty of the right stuff relating to the Wilson administration on the market soon after the 4th of March. Josephus Daniels will contribute to the literary output.

Congressman Randall has demanded a recount. This is a consolation. It is back to the Sixth Huntington Park for the Ninth from the Ninth Congressional district.

Speaking of the proposition to float the English loan, would the loyal subjects of King George act if it were suggested that the loan to the nation should be canceled?

Spring is advancing rapidly and those who have not yet secured good overcoat at their favorite store may be compelled to wait for another winter. The opportunity has been boundless.

Wonder what has become of Edison's machine to enable us to talk to the dead? We have always had a desire to interview Mose Baer, if he was really deposited in the bulrushes. You know that is the daughter of Pharaoh and all that.

Two of the alleged crooked White Sox baseball players now deny having made no confession. They are merely confining themselves in the classic to which women is a great majority. Mann law violations, who have their minds about giving them away when the latter are in the toils of the law.

It is a question whether the criminality of this country or the children of its forefathers will be appreciated the most worth. But when it comes to the matter of food in the mouths of growing ones American humanity demands place its altruism or philanthropy on a spectacular basis.

Really, the traffic of the air and 'eggz men is becoming so great that there ought to be established the "owl-car" service in connection. Very often some of the best information and for the investigation of relieving the financial depression and they are compelled to go home.

Congressman Ben Wilson of the Fourth Ohio District was defeated for the United States District Attorney by Kenesaw Mountain Landis by holding two jobs—that of Congressman and high commissioner of baseball. Welty is one of the Democrats whom the people of Ohio got "next" to. Nevertheser and retired to private life.

The statement that Gen. Sherwood, age 85, is to be the Washington correspondent of the Omaha Bee reminds us that when Sherwood was a young man he could not write for the newspapers. The paper kept brains of the family out of the keeping of his wife, Kate Sherwood. Possibly the appointment is simply another scheme of the Scripps-McRae press association.

WHENCE AND WHITHER.

Now we walk along the street,
And try to count the folks we meet
Who seem to only have designed
A careless, gay, unthinking mind.
The contemplation strikes us then:
From where, we wonder, do they come?

They wander east, they wander west,
And never seem to really rest.
Perhaps a moment on their way
They pause before some show or play,
And then again the mood dies out
And where, we wonder, are they bound?

Now we have always had to live
To live and eat, we could not give
And never yet in all our life
Could we avoid the daily strife
And some of these folks must do, too.
But what, we wonder, do they do?

The city does a wondrous thing
To get them all baskets to bring
And sometimes 'twixt the night and dawn
gone;
There seems some place to go and creep,
But where, we wonder, do they sleep?

ON BOARD OF TRADE.

From Edwin J. Tremont of San Francisco came additional details last night regarding Mr. Bailey. He says the missing promoter formerly was connected with the Board of Trade of Chicago and that Trement handled Bailey's legal affairs in Los Angeles for several months, with other attorneys here. The last time he saw Bailey was in October in Los Angeles.

Since then, however, about January 1, he received a message from Bailey, who was then in Chicago. In that message Bailey appealed to him not to issue attachment papers against him for a bill, declaring he was refinancing and would straighten matters out soon. That was the last he heard, he said. Before receiving the appeal he had issued attachment papers against Bailey, on December 20.

R. J. Whyte, member of the Board of Trade in Chicago, and reported backer of Bailey, said yesterday he has not seen him since October.

"I met him on the Coast," Mr. Whyte said, "and being much interested in his propositnon for a co-operative apartment-house loaned him a small amount of money for advertising. It looks as if I picked up a dead one, but I think the plan is a good one if properly handled."

He spoke on fraternity matters and of his college days as an active member of the organization.

URGES TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON.

Mayor Asks That All Local Business Houses Close Next Tuesday.

Asking all merchants to themselves join in celebrating Washington's Birthday next Tuesday and to allow all their employees to do the same by closing their premises, Mayor Snyder yesterday issued the following proclamation:

Tuesday, February 22, being the anniversary of the birthday of the father of our country, George Washington, San Francisco and other Pacific Coast cities are celebrating it as a full legal holiday, closing not only the banks, schools and public institutions, but most of the business houses as well.

Therefore, let me urge that we also pay fitting tribute to this great man, and that all business houses, in so far as possible, join in closing for that day, so that their employees may fittingly celebrate the occasion.

SIGNS STORY OF CRIME AND DIES.

Mystery Man Takes Own Life After Last "Puff."

Said He Was Implicated in Killings in East.

Coming of Texas Woman Was Cause for Anxiety.

Ending his life with a revolver, after dramatically announcing to some acquaintances that "it will all be over after this puff," Dan Plummer, alias Edward I. Perry, alias Albert C. Huckaba, a railway fireman, yesterday left behind a maze of mystery at Lancaster, where he told several persons he was implicated in murders in Chicago and New York and was wanted by police in several States for robberies and other crimes.

In addition to his verbal partial confessions, a death letter was written a short time before he shot himself through the heart. In this letter he stated that his conscience was constantly tormented and he was always in fear of arrest, adding, "there is no other way out, except to shoot myself."

No details of the purported murders in which Plummer, if such was the man's name, was implicated were learned by Deputy Sheriffs Nolan and Allen, detailed to investigate the case, and to check, if possible, the truth of the reported admissions. In the letter, however, the writer expressed the hope that the persons convicted for the murders will be pardoned.

TWO NAMES.

Additional mystery was added to the case by the manner in which he referred to himself in the suicide note. First was written: "My real name is Dan Plummer," and then that was crossed and blotted out and the name of Edward I. Perry substituted. Perry stated he was born in Illinois. He had worked in a restaurant at Lancaster since January 1, and practically nothing else was known there about him.

Finger prints, pictures and a description of the man will be sent to the police of several cities mentioned by him, to ascertain if he was wanted for any of the crimes he talked about. He was a well-dressed man, about 25 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches tall, had blue eyes, light hair and weighed about 150 pardoned.

A postal card from "Mrs. Clara Fields of San Antonio, Tex., general delivery," received on the 14th inst., in which the writer said she was coming out soon to see Perry, caused him to become greatly worried and he showed much alarm at the prospect, his acquaintances say. The card was addressed to Dan Plummer at Lancaster.

CARDS MAY BE CLEWS.

Added to this clew of his identity were the following other cards: One signed by Dan Plummer, Brotherhood of Railway Firemen; one signed by A. C. Huckaba, fireman for the C.C.C. and St. L. Railway; another by Dan Plummer, 3737 South Halsted street, Chicago; a card of the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance Company, made out to Albert C. Huckaba, 605 North Twenty-first street, Mattoon, Ill., and another card signed by Huckaba for the Mutual Benefit, Health and Accident Insurance Company of Omaha.

Disabled War Veterans Get Happy Outing.

Two hundred and fifty disabled veterans of the World War were given an entertainment and outing yesterday by the Merchants' and Manufactuguers' Association in cooperation with the Better American Federation.

At 3 o'clock in the morning sixty-four automobiles, loaned by members of the association for the day, went around to the various hospitals and got the veterans, who were taken for drives to near-by cities. Arriving at Pasadena shortly before noon, the veterans were given a luncheon at the Elks' Club in that city. At the luncheon an elaborate cabaret performance by Grauman performers was an added attraction.

During the afternoon they were taken to San Gabriel to witness the "Mission Play," after which they were brought back to the local hospitals in which they are staying.

Counts Against Organizer for Lodge Doubled.

Upon presentation of the testimony of two surprise witnesses by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fitts, in the hearing of John Schwarz yesterday before Justice Baird, the court held the defendant to answer on four counts, instead of two, of obtaining money under false pretenses by representing himself to be an organizer for a lodge affiliated with the Masonic order.

Karl Schulz and Earl F. Knorr, the new witnesses, testified they had paid the defendant $75 each for membership in St. John's Lodge, No. 21, which they were told would entitle them to affiliation with the Masonic order. M. H. Kastleman and J. M. Alberstein also testified they had parted with $75 each in like manner.

The defendant and W. H. Toll, who said he was a member of the lodge, testified for the defense. Schwarz is at liberty on $1500 bail.

TWO-WAY DEBATE WON BY HOLLYWOOD.

Hollywood High School's debating teams last night won both affirmatively and negatively when they met Lincoln and Franklin High School teams and discussed the question: "Resolved, that American Petroleum Resources should be owned by the United States Government." Hollywood's first team subsequently defeated Manual Arts at basketball by 34 to 33, and its 126-pound team also defeated that of Manual Arts by 29 to 22.

J. A. BURRINGTON GAINS 25 POUNDS

Los Angeles Man Tells of Big Change.

Obtains Wonderful Results from Tanlac.

Was Almost Past Going When He Began Taking It.

"A hundred and twelve pounds was all I weighed when I started taking Tanlac, but five bottles put me into shape where I now weigh a hundred and thirty-seven pounds," said J. A. Burrington, 540 Stanford Ave., Los Angeles, a well-known painter formerly of Seattle, Wash.

"I had rheumatism so bad I was nearly past going and it was all I could do to stay on the job. My back nearly killed me, it hurt so, and my knees were so stiff and achy I just had to drag one foot after the other. At night I went to bed only to have a dull aching pain keep me awake, sometimes all night long, and in the morning I was stiff all over and could hardly get out of bed. My appetite went back on me and I fell off in weight and got so weak I just could stick it out during the day.

"This was all two years ago while I was living in Seattle, and some of my friends recommended Tanlac. Well, sir, five bottles simply straightened me out and made such a good job of it that I haven't felt a sign of it since. My appetite came back with a rush and I went up twenty-five pounds in weight. I have been feeling fine ever since and working every day."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Stores.—[Advertisement.]

OIL STATION NOT WANTED.

Residents of Oak Knoll File Vigorous Protest.

Art Patron Comes to Pasadena for Season.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Feb. 18.—Protests against the intrusion of an oil filling station in the fashionable precincts of the Oak Knoll district of Pasadena, were made by a delegation of property owners, which appeared before the City Commission here today.

The Oak Knoll representatives said they did not object to oil stations, but urged that they be placed at "commercial corners."

The protest followed the granting of a permit by Commissioner H. F. Newell to Sam Dorsey, to erect an oil station at El Molino avenue and East California street. The Commission took no action on the protest today.

Commissioner Newell and B. O. Kendall, one of the protesting delegation, had a debate as to whether apartment-houses "commercialize" a residential district. Mr. Kendall said his associates plan to spend $300,000 building a fashionable apartment in the neighborhood and do not want the oil station next door. Commissioner Newell maintained that apartment houses are as "commercial" as oil stations.

ART PATRON HERE.

Chicago is making great strides in an aesthetic way, with the new Field Museum Building, extension of the parks system, and in other ways, said Edward E. Ayer, wealthy retired lumberman and patron of the arts, who has just arrived here to spend the winter. Col. Ayer was the first president of the Field Museum. He is noted in California for his interest in the movement to preserve the sequoia, or redwood, trees in this State.

CITY'S OIL DIVIDEND.

The city of Pasadena received $536.36 royalty from the Pan-American Oil Company for oil taken from municipally-owned property at the San Gabriel narrows during the month of January. The royalty check has just been received by the city.

BAL MASQUE SCHEDULED.

The annual bal masque at the Hotel Maryland, which is customarily a big social event of the winter season in Pasadena, will be held at the hotel Saturday night. Winter visitors and townspeople attend this affair in bizarre costumes.

INCIDENT IS CLOSED.

The City Commission today obliterated the contemplated charter amendments by agreeing to rescind its action, submitting them to the voters on March 17. This action was a sequel to that of yesterday when the Chamber of Commerce and James S. Bennett and his supporters reached an agreement to give up the attempt to have a vote on the Bennett amendment to the city manager form voted on last November. The City Commission had previously given up its original plan to resubmit the commission form plan at the spring elections.

LOVE OF CHICKEN GETS BOY IN JAIL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, Feb. 18.—While engaged in preparing a chicken stew and picturing his delight when the fowl was done to a turn, Fred Carter, negro, aged 18, was arrested today, charged with stealing the fowl from the pen of Phillip Gluck, 1030 West Second street.

This afternoon he appeared before Judge U. E. White and was sentenced to serve thirty days in the County Jail.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BRYN MAWR, Feb. 18.—The building of a model colony for Mexican families was decided on at a meeting held at the Mission schoolhouse last night. A report was read from the State Labor Commission, whose representatives made a survey recently, saying that the conditions were such among the Mexicans housed in the camp here as to create a real menace to the health of the community.

The plan is to expend about $20,000 in the building of a colony, which will be self-supporting. Many of the Mexicans drink irrigation water now. Water will be piped into every house in the colony and sanitary toilet facilities arranged. The houses will be models of ventilation and comfort although cheaply built and of but two rooms.

The Mexicans who were seen have practically all agreed to pay a rent that will return interest on the investment.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 18.—Attacking the management of the State School for Girls at Ventura as extravagant, State Senator Arbuckle, a Ventura county resident caused a mild sensation at a Rotary Club dinner given at the Ambassador today.

"The Ventura institution, the school for delinquent girls spends $1200 a year for each girl in that home. In the name of common sense why should it cost so much?" the Senator exclaimed. He also attacked the King bill, declaring that our system of taxation is a fizzle' and when I was sought by the administration to vote for the King bill, the lobbyists for the bill admitted it.

"The question is not that of the corporations against the people. This King bill formula for raising taxes at the expense of the corporations is absolutely unjust and unfair. Whenever the administration will propose a fair bill I will vote for it."

MAY MAKE PICTURES IN POMONA STUDIO.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, Feb. 18.—The Super Feature Film Corporation, organized for the purpose of producing and marketing films suitable for churches is making its headquarters in Pomona and the officers of the concern are considering the purchase of the 450-acre tract of level land now owned by Louis Phillips, adjoining the west city limits.

The corporation is composed of C. C. Craig, president, general manager of the Special Pictures Corporation, L. J. Burred, first vice-president, head of the Sunset-Burred Pictorial Company and R. W. Reed, secretary, vice-president and general manager of the Hart productions.

ACCIDENT IS FATAL.

Redlands Woman Killed When Car Hits Automobile.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDLANDS, Feb. 18.—The funeral of Mrs. Ida Goss, aged 26 years, who was killed between here and San Bernardino late yesterday when a Pacific Electric car hit the automobile she was driving at Nevada-street crossing, is to be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock. The Coroner's jury today found that death was accidental.

Doctors, who were called, performed an unsuccessful Cesarean operation on Mrs. Goss, who died almost immediately after the car hit the automobile. Mrs. Goss was taking her little daughter Thelma home from school. The girl escaped with her left leg broken below the knee and bad cuts and bruises. There was a slight rain and it was thought this covered the windshield and prevented a view of the track, the noise of the machine drowning the warning signals of the car.

Mrs. Goss leaves a husband and three children all under seven years of age. Her husband is a well-known farmer.

Just a few weeks ago Lee Groves was killed at the same crossing in a similar accident.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 18.—A dispute, the outgrowth of the separation of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hill, resulted in the arrest of two men here this afternoon charged with kidnaping the 4-year-old daughter of the estranged couple.

Mr. Hill swore to a complaint charging J. W. Scott, local rooming-house proprietor, and Guy Bright, a carpenter employed at the Norwalk State Hospital, with stealing the child. Both men entered emphatic denials, saying the mother secured the possession of the girl unassisted.

WOMAN BOOTBLACK ACCUSES POLICE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Feb. 18. — Mrs. Mamie Castro, negro, woman bootblack here, who made sensational charges a week ago that the police here were aiding in the making of moonshine whisky and the distribution of drugs, was found guilty of disturbing the peace by a jury in a trial today. She was arrested because of a verbal attack on Officer Walter Thomas while he was on duty.

Mrs. Castro says that the recent vice crusade in the county was a result of her "plan to clean up the county." She testified that three officers broke into her house one night, rifled her trunk of valuable papers and over $100 and then tried to make love to her while she was in bed "clad only in de bed cloe's I could pull around me."

Judge McIver, before whom the case was tried, expressed the opinion that the woman is of unsound mind and asked that an investigation be made before he passed sentence.

List of Donations Divulged in Lost-Love Suit.

Katherine Tingley is Blamed by Unhappy Wife.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 18.—Documents read in the $200,000 suit of Mrs. Irene Mohn against Katherine Tingley, head of the Theosophical homestead at Point Loma, for the alienation of the affections of Dr. George F. Mohn, formerly of Los Angeles, showed that Dr. Mohn had paid to the School of Antiquity, a corporation of the theosophical organization, or to other theosophical activities there, $134,475 in addition to donations amounting to $134,550.

Much discussion arose over so-called "annuities" bought by Dr. Mohn in the School of Antiquity. Yesterday Attorney Crouch sought to have the testimony of Dr. Mohn impeached because he denied he had ever in his life bought an annuity and testimony in a previous trial showed that Dr. Mohn had said he had purchased annuities. The documents, some of which were originals and some duplicates allowed by the defendant, were produced in court today and were bills of sale and agreements that showed payments into the School of Antiquity by Dr. Mohn for which he was to receive so much annually as in an annuity.

MADE SNUG INCOME.

One of these bills of sale was dated Dec. 20, 1911, and showed that Dr. Mohn paid to the School of Antiquity $95,000 for which he was to receive annually $3800. Another "bill of sale" was for $19,475 dated Jan. 5, 1912, and was to pay annually to Mohn, $779 until his death when it was to go to Mrs. Mohn. The third document, an "agreement" was a paper whereby Mohn gave $20,000 to the School of Antiquity and was to receive $800 a year until his death, which sum was to be paid after his death to Mrs. Mohn.

By a modification dated some time later, Dr. Mohn said that his annual income from these amounted to about $4579 a year which was more than they needed and he proposed the income from the $95,000 be reduced to $2850 from $3800.

A memorandum of donations of Dr. Mohn to the various organizations and departments of theosophical activities at Point Loma, prepared by Frank Knoche, business manager at Point Loma, was read which showed that donations up to 1913 from Dr. Mohn, aside from the bills of sale and agreement, were $134,550.

Testimony of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Collins was given this morning to show the harmonious relations between Dr. and Mrs. Mohn in 1904 and 1905, prior to their going to Point Loma to live.

FRIENDS LONG AGO.

Mrs. Collins said that she was an intimate friend of Mrs. Mohn for part of 1904 and 1905 and told of the happy relations of the pair at that time. Many objections were made by W. R. Andrews, attorney for Mrs. Tingley, to the testimony of Mrs. Collins on the grounds that it was too remote and after she answered the attorney asked that much of the testimony be stricken out. Judge Carey overruled most of the objections and would not allow many of strictures from the testimony on the grounds that the lawyer had not objected to the questions of Attorney Crouch.

D. M. Collins, traveling passenger agent of Union Pacific, also testified as to the happy relations of the Mohns when he visited them early in 1904 and told of their singing and playing together.

Mrs. Collins testified concerning a dinner on Christmas Day at the Mohn's when Dr. Mohn was expected, but did not appear. The doctor had gone to Lower California but promised to return for the dinner. Mrs. Mohn was unable to learn of his whereabouts though she knew the boat was in from Lower California. Later he was located at Point Loma. Many objections were made to this testimony by Mr. Andrews on the grounds that Mrs. Collins was drawing her own conclusions, but they were overruled by Judge Carey.

Dr. Mohn testified upon cross-examination by Attorney Iverson Harris, counsel for Mrs. Tingley, that he had become a theosophist in 1887, nine years before he met Mrs. Tingley. He also testified that at the time of his marriage to Mrs. Mohn his income was but $100 a month, which he received from his father.

In cross-examination it was brought out that a contract had been signed by Mrs. Mohn and by Dr. Mohn and Mrs. Tingley for the second party, in which Mrs. Mohn agreed to drop all action for separate maintenance against Dr. Mohn and agreed to accept the sum of $131.50 monthly for the remainder of her life. In this contract she gave up all rights to his property and all claims for support.

Mohn was kept on the witness stand throughout the day and this evening court adjourned for a recess until next Wednesday morning, as Attorney Crouch had a case for Monday, and Tuesday is a holiday.

ACTOR DISCUSSES MUSIC AND FILMS.

That music is helping the photo-play materially was brought out by Alec B. Francis in his talk "Music in Its Relation to Picture Making and Producing," which he gave Thursday afternoon at the students' recital of the college of music, University of Southern California.

"When you consider that Griffith paid $60,000 for the music for 'Intolerance,'" said Mr. Francis, "the importance of music can be understood. 'Chase' music was good enough for the old days. But today a conductor studies a film in its entirety and then goes over it scene by scene, fitting the melodies to it and giving to the characters a dominating motif that reflects them perfectly. The organ and solos also contribute to the success of a picture."

The speaker cited "Earthbound," "Goddess Meri," "Madame X" and "Hold Your Horses" as striking examples of notable musical settings.

Passing to the music of the studios, Mr. Francis discussed its contribution to picture making and its effect on actors.

Musical numbers were given by the following students as part of the program: Misses Winterfield, Ivy Goade, Alberta Metzler, Venus Wilson, Beatrice Loucks and Rebecca Mettertan and Messrs. Clarence Simmons and B. S. Hough.

ITALIAN IMPRESSIONS.

PHILHARMONIC DELIGHTS IN CHARPENTIER WORK.

By Jeanne Redman.

Contrast was the keynote of the concert by the Philharmonic Orchestra yesterday afternoon at the Auditorium. Two Mozart numbers were followed by two moderns of radical tendencies.

The Overture to "Figaro" was an example of finesse, technically, some fine scales being evident in the strings, but the work is hardly interesting. May Peterson, soprano, sang the "De Miei!" aria from the same opera, rather a dry selection, but one which was greatly applauded.

Miss Peterson has a clear and sweet voice, and she has evidently the fetish of the tone, fine at any cost, well developed. She has an agreeable personality in singing, but her apparent concentration of the point of the tone deprives her work of charm and variety.

Her singing of the "Depuis le Jour" from Charpentier's "Louise" was more enlivening, but lacked fervor. She is extremely correct, and her performance is elaborately finished.

Charpentier's "Impressions d'Italie" is a delightful work, light and true to its title—simply impressions and little more. Emile Ferir played a viola solo in the first part of the suite, and his work was, as always, the perfection of unaffected artistry, a mellow tone and a fine musicianship. The five sections of the Impressions were all picturesque, with suggestions of old Italian tunes and mental suggestions of well-known scenes of Italy.

A tone poem of Morris, an American composer, was well liked. In spite of a formidable list of instructors and critics, I cannot fully subscribe to the work as a serious musical composition. It is almost formless, and the melodies are somewhat trite and banal. It is done in modern idiom and cleverly orchestrated.

Tagore's poem, "The Stream of Life," is the motif, and while the work is riotous, it is more purposeless than one fancies for the life-throb.

BRAHMS PROGRAM AT SASLAVSKY CONCERT.

The Saslavsky Chamber Music Society played a Brahms program at their concert last evening at the Ted Shawn Theater to a house in which every seat was taken. A Brahms program is usually a trifle heavy for the masses, but last evening the works were so selected and placed that the most casual listener could scarcely fail to find variety and enjoyment.

Alexander Saslavsky, violinist, Katie Winter Hall, pianist, and Robert Alter, 'cellist, made up the personnel. The Trio in C-Minor opened the progrm, work of almost the Beethoven calibre proportionate to the trio form.

Richness, originality of invention, melody in abundance and an overmastering intellect were evident throughout the three numbers, but in none more than in this Trio.

The Sonata in D-Minor was perhaps played with more finish and ease, and perhaps also the Trio in B-Major, but the first number remained in the mind. Katie Winter Hall is a pianist of probably more musical understanding and a more intuitive musical sense than of pure technique.

Her phrasing is not always clean and she could improve her effects by a severer attention to pedaling, but she plays without affectation and with a good feeling for ensemble music.

Saslavsky and Alter are well known to their audiences, and were gratifyingly welcomed last evening.

PRAISE FOR NOVELTY.

An unusual amount of praise has been accorded "The Mountebanks," the singing and dancing act which prefaces the Goldwn production, "Roads of Destiny," with Pauline Frederick, at the California Theater, according to report. The man responsible for the recent novelty acts is Purl Wilkerson, a showman of over thirty years' experience. He has already brought a number of people from the East for engagements at the California and promises more talent and more unusual features. The Paisley Noon act presented some weeks ago, has now gone on tour on one of the vaudeville circuits, and Ogden and Benson, the "Joy Clerks," will shortly play a return engagement and then go on tour.

In Musical Frivolities.

Loretta Duffy (above,) in "Sweetheart Shop," at the Mason, and Rae Samuels, who is to headline the Orpheum bill next week.

"THE PASSING SHOW."

"The Passing Show of 1919" is now announced for a visit to this city, by Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert. The production is on a Coast-to-Coast tour. Included in the principals of the large company are James Barton, the Avon Comedy Four, Kyra, Lon Hascall, Frankie Heath, Hazel Cox, Jack Leslie, the Rath Brothers, the Four Haley Sisters, Al Martin, Harry Turpin, Peggy Merriment and Tilly Barton.

Duty-Free Program Proposed for Lower California.

Viewed by Committee as Way to Upbuild District.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, Feb. 18.—Recommendations that duties on practically every commodity directly used or produced in connection with an agricultural venture be remitted in the case of Lower California were made today by the committee recently named by Gov. Balarezo of the northern district to devise a plan whereby the growth and financial stability of that region may be assured. Excepted from the duty-free program proposed are only live stock, cotton, hides and pelts.

Although the plan is widely at variance with the past and present policies of the Mexican administration, it has the approval of Gov. Balarezo and big business interests on both sides of the border and is believed to offer the only way in which the development of the great agricultural area below the boundary can be assured.

The primary idea of the committee is to place the farmers below the border on an equal footing with those on the American side, from a competitive standpoint.

TO MEXICO CITY.

Three men will be named by Gov. Balarezo tomorrow to take the report to Mexico City for consideration by the administrative heads of the government. It is believed the recommendations will meet with favorable action, because of the standing of the men who drafted them here and of others who have given it their enthusiastic approval.

Approval of the reduction of land rentals by the Colorado River Land Company and a suggestion as to the adoption of that company's scale form one of the first items in the voluminous report.

Among outstanding recommendations are that water rentals be lowered by the elimination of unnecessary work and by the practice of economy in administering water affairs; that the building of homes be encouraged by admitting materials free of duty; that American currency be returned to a two-to-one basis and that discounts for it be discontinued; that consular fees on everything admitted duty free be eliminated and that they be reduced to a minimum on other items, that labor laws, which now are said to be frequently abused, be better administered, and that exclusive concessions to anyone for any purpose be refused.

The committee also requests the appointment of an international commission of three members each by the Calexico and Mexicali Chambers of Commerce, to serve without pay or authority, which commission would adjust the many petty differences and annoyances which frequently arise on both sides of the line. Promotion of more harmonious relations between the citizens of the two communities would be the chief business of this body.

The report points out that haste must be made in settling on a helpful policy for Lower California, because new crops must be planted within three weeks and many laborers now employed will be out of work unless through new crops new employment is obtainable.

The committee by which the report was drafted is composed of prominent business men and farmers of both sides of this line.

"YANKEE" IN NINTH WEEK.

"A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" seems as popular as during the first week of its run here. The picture is in the ninth week. It is a spectacle wherein pomp, ceremony, ancient castles, monstrous edifices and gorgeous panoply go fifty-fifty with the comedy which keeps the audiences in high spirits.

"INSIDE OF CUP" CONTINUES.

"The Inside of the Cup," a picturization of Winston Churchill's novel is to continue another week at the Rialto Theater.

The bill at Grauman's Theater will change from "What's Worth While" to "The Passionate Pilgrim" Monday. Rubye De Remer and others are in the picture.

SODA-PRICE-CUT RUMOR ASSAILED

Druggists View with Alarm Talk of Reductions.

Ice Cream Cheaper, but Gas is Still Expensive.

Fruits and Labor Listed as Up on Luxury Levels.

Propaganda, that mighty wielder of public opinion, destroyer of nations and winner of wars, has sought to invade the Los Angeles corner drug store and cast its sinister shadow athwart the festive ice cream soda.

At least, so Los Angeles druggists declare, viewing with alarm the report that the price of an ice cream soda, at present 17 cents, including the war tax, is to be reduced to 10 cents.

No such reduction is possible, according to T. W. Jones, secretary of the Southern California Druggists' Association, who announced yesterday that a meeting of the association had been held to consider the situation.

An active campaign of counter-propaganda is to be started by the druggists at once, he said, in order to prevent dissatisfaction on the part of the ice-cream-eating public.

Among the reasons advanced by Mr. Jones for a decision by the druggists not to reduce ice cream soda prices at this time are the following: That crushed fruits have increased from 250 per cent to 300 per cent; that labor costs have increased from 200 per cent to 300 per cent, and that cost of carbonic gas is higher by from 200 per cent to 300 per cent.

On the whole, he said, it is a matter of obtaining a price commensurate with quality and service.

However, beginning March 1, according to A. A. Comey, vice-president and general manager of the L. J. Christopher Company, a reduction of 20 cents a gallon on ice cream will become effective to the retailer.

Mr. Comey said that he believes it probable that ice cream manufacturers will adopt a sliding scale of prices in order to give the general public the benefit of market conditions. Adoption of this plan, he said, will enable the companies to sell ice cream at a cheaper rate during the summer, when the cooling commodity is much in demand, and at a higher rate in winter, when the demand drops off without a corresponding diminution in manufacturing and delivery costs.

The sliding-scale plan has been adopted successfully by eastern ice cream manufacturers, he said.

ON TWO CHARGES.

Accused of attempted robbery and assault with a deadly weapon upon M. W. Baker, of 556 North Oxford avenue, Mrs. J. Allyn Weed and Bob Landes were arraigned yesterday before Justice Hanby. Bail was fixed at $1000 each and their hearing was set for Thursday.

Dr. E. H. Garrett.

Physician Once Police Surgeon Gets Last Call.

Dr. E. H. Garrett, at one time police surgeon in this city, died yesterday at his home at 2251 West Twentieth street. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Church of the Messiah at Washington street and Van Ness avenue, and burial will be made in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Dr. Garrett, who was 48 years of age, was born at Wilmington and was educated in Los Angeles. He leaves his wife, a daughter and two brothers, Robert B. and Banning C. Garrett.

FOURTEEN ARE HELD AS SLAYERS.

Bing Kong Members Accused of Conspiracy and Assault to Kill in Tong War.

Fourteen members of the Bing Kong tong, who were held in the City Jail until yesterday, following the murder on Tuesday of Lem Gooey Fong and Soo Ho Song, Hop Sing tong members, were accused of two counts of murder, one of conspiracy to murder and one of assault with intent to kill Lou Bing, a Hop Sing man, in a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Keyes.

They were arraigned before Justice Hanby, who ordered them committed to the County Jail without bail until Monday afternoon when they will be given a hearing. Guy Eddie, who appeared as the defense attorney, stated that because he was informed that the police had not identified most of the defendants as being implicated in the two murders, he would ask an immediate hearing. The case may be continued again on Monday because of a crowded court calendar.

The Chinese accused are Louie Wing, Lock Suey, Soo Hoo Lee, Luong Wes Tong, Chew Quen, Lang Gan, Wong Lou Quen, Wong Wing, Fong Lin, Ben Foung, Jung W. Juck, Young Gow, Loo Lee and Louie Dung. The Chinese were handcuffed together and in charge of Sergt. White of the Chinatown squad and Detective Sergeants O'Brien, Tarrow and Cline.

GETS PROBATION.

Eddie Colver, who was convicted of embezzling $145, was given probation for one year by Judge McCormick yesterday. The money was said to have been given to Colver, a youth, to buy Mellwood whisky, and it was asserted he kept the money and did not purchase the whisky. He said the money was owing him for a gambling debt.

These advantageous features were shown to the legislators, according to B. R. Halloway, president of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, in order to demonstrate that there are many phases of the farm activity being successfully practiced at Van Nuys, and that the students could conduct a large amount of their laboratory work there.

The visitors were in charge of Mr. Halloway and John Dillon, secretary of the chamber. Practically all of the members of the directorate of the chamber went on the excursion around the valley and joined in the discussion. W. P. Whitsett, who is well informed regarding the move for the establishment of the junior college, and who to a large extent was the spokesman for the chamber yesterday, insisted that the move is in no sense a "land selling" proposition. He and other members of the party insist that the sale of acreage to the State is the least of the considerations.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce told the legislators that the college is needed because the educational facilities of Los Angeles county are inadequate to meet the demands for those who desire an agricultural education. The students at the University of California who are taking the teaching course have no way to secure the knowledge of rural communities and life that is a requisite for teachers who are to supply the needs of the rural schools.

Another reason advanced for the establishment of the junior college in San Fernando Valley is that this section of the State has become the greatest western center of population and is the logical center for diversified farming and rural education.

WIFE IS SOUGHT BY HIGH FLYER.

Aviator Who Has Temper and is Rebellious at Times Wants Pretty Cook.

Girls, Ambrose E. Bell of 175 Morgan street, Fall River, Mass., would wed.

He is 28 years old, he says; has a loving disposition, a job as an aviator instructor for the government at a salary of $260 a month, can speak four languages, admits he has a temper enough "to make life interesting," says he is rebellious at times if not kindly treated, but, on the other hand, points out that he owns some real estate and a Packard car.

His wife, Mr. Bell says, must be 20 years old, good-looking, one who can cook and is a good housekeeper.

"No bleached blondes, pug-nosed or bow-legged girls need apply," says the Bay State suitor in his letter, which was received at the City Hall yesterday addressed "City Clerk."

NAB THREE IN RARE RUG ROBBERY.

Detectives Say Men Confess Taking Treasures of Hollywood Connoisseur.

The balming Heatson rug robbery of last December, in which oriental rugs worth more than $10,000 were taken from the residence of James Heatson, a wealthy connoisseur, who lives at Los Feliz Road and Edgemont street, in Hollywood, was cleared up last night by Detective Sergeants Cahill and Fitzgerald with the arrest of three men, whom the detectives charge were implicated in the theft. The three suspects are said to have confessed to their parts in the theft. They are held in the City Jail on suspicion of a felony. A fourth man, the brains of the asserted gang, is being sought.

The three men arrested are Walter E. Jones, a railroad brakeman; Julian Matusgewski, a Polish junk dealer, and W. H. McGee, a waiter.

Shortly after the robbery in December, Detectives Fitzgerald and Cahill recovered $20,000 worth of rugs stolen from the Heatson home and three other residences, but failed to locate the burglars. A persistent search has been made ever since that time and yesterday afternoon the trail of circumstantial evidence led the detectives to 527 South Main street, where they arrested Jones, who the detectives charge, was one of the principals in the theft.

From information given by Jones, the detectives next went to the home of the junk dealer, Matusgewski, yesterday evening and arrested him. They charge that Matusgewski housed the rugs in his home, knowing that they were stolen, and offered to buy them.

Finally, late last night, the detectives located McGee at 434 South Main street. Detective Cahill asserted that McGee helped move the rugs.

In connection with the arrests yesterday, the detectives recovered more oriental rugs, which they value at $5000.

ENJOY STAG DINNER.

First Affair in Union League Club's New Headquarters.

The Union League Club's stag social events began in its new quarters in the former Y.W.C.A. building last night when more than 300 men filled the dining-rooms and afterward attended a vaudeville smoker in the club theater and finally a boxing match in the gymnasium.

The smoker was attended by members of the press and club men from the beach cities as well as from Los Angeles, and at the end of the night's features, it was decided to make the stag dinner a regular monthly affair. The club committee deserving credit for the successful affair consisted of C. M. Fuller, H. A. Hanaley, James P. Britt and C. F. Edwards.

DEMAND INVESTIGATION OF EXCESSIVE BUDGET.

Public Service Corporation and Bank Heads Wire Committee Chairman for Hearing on the Details.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Joining in what is probably the most impressive demand ever made on committees of the State Legislature, executives and officials of the combined public service corporations and banks of the State today wired Lyman M. King, chairman of the Assembly Committee on Finance; T. M. Wright, chairman of the Assembly Commitee on Ways and Means, and Egbert Gates, chairman of the Senate Committee on Finance, for a thorough investigation by the State Legislature of the items in the proposed budget by which $81,000,000 is sought to run the affairs of the State for the coming two years, an increase over the last budget of $34,000,000.

A copy of the telegram was sent to Gov. Stephens.

The telegram, with the officials and the corporations and concerns they represent, is as follows:

Before the rates at which State-taxed corporations shall pay upon their properties for the support of the State government can be fixed, those corporations are entitled to know what the cost of that government is going to be. That cost can be determined only by the State Legislature. The responsibility for fixing the budget for State government rests upon the Legislature and upon the Legislature alone, and the Legislature can neither avoid it entirely nor shift it to a so-called budget committee that has no legal standing whatever.

WANT BILL FIXED.

The Legislature, the sole money appropriating and tax fixing authority, has not determined the amount of money that will be necessary to operate the State government during the next two years. We demand, as taxpayers, that the amount of our bill be determined before we are called upon to pay it.

We demand, specifically, that the Legislature immediately fix the cost of State government before it seeks to determine how much in taxes we shall be called upon to pay to meet that cost. The Legislature must do it, and instead of blindly accepting this experts report of the so-called Budget Committee, we demand before any attempt is made to fix the rates at which State-taxed corporations shall pay, that we be given a general hearing at which full inquiry may be made into the following specific question: Is it necessary for the proper support of the State government that the budget of 1919, amounting to $47,000,000, be increased as proposed by th so-called Budget Committee to $81,000,000?

We demand that at this hearing we be accorded the usual privilege of presenting, examining and cross-examining witnesses and of filing documentary evidence.

DOCUMENTS CALLED FOR.

We demand particularly that as chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Revenue and Taxation you notify all members of the so-called Budget Committee and the State Board of Control, together with all members of their respective staffs that assisted in the preparation of the so-called budget, to be present at the hearing and that you notify these persons to bring with them all documents used by them in the preparation of that budget."

SAN DIEGO (Cal.) Feb. 18.—On the eve of his return to Sacramento Assemblyman J. O. Bishop, representing the Seventy-ninth Assembly District, said tonight that as soon as the Legislature reconvened he would call for an investigation into reports that undue influence had been brought to bear on certain legislators to induce them to vote for the King taxation measure, increasing the tax on corporations.

"I know enough about this matter," he said, "to convince me that an investigation is necessary. There has been talk from advocates of the King bill that a 'lobby' was at work in Sacramento on the side of the corporations, but so far as I know it was only talk, and I believe it was just an echo of the old cry that has been heard so long at the State Capitol. On the other hand, there is no doubt that offers of lucrative places to legislators have been made by certain people who seem to be interested in the passage of this measure. That calls for investigation."

How a State home for delinquent women without any inmates, or any prospect of any inmates, is costing the State hundreds of thousands of dollars was brought to light last night in a formal statement from Assemblyman Elmer P. Bromley of Los Angeles, chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee. The statement urges the decrease instead of increase of the State expense budget and declares that Assemblyman Bromley has not been convinced that the $81,387,000 asked by Gov. Stephens and his administration in the King tax bill for State expenses in 1921-1923 is necessary. He said he, in common with other members of the Legislature, has received assurance from the State Railroad Commission that any increase in taxes assessed against public utility corporations will necessarily be considered by the commission in fixing new rates for service to the consumers.

"The proponents of the so-called King tax bill," said Mr. Bromley "contend that the corporations and public utilities are not paying their just share of taxes as compared with those paid by local property owners. If this is true they should be compelled to pay their just proportion. I am frank to say that the proponents of the King bill have failed to convince me that such is a fact.

"I believe that the cost of the State government could be reduced materially. According to the facts and figures at hand, I feel certain that some of the departments are asking far too much for their expenses for the next two years.

"For instance, in the 1919 session, of which I was a member, two bills were introduced, one authorizing the purchase and equipping a home for delinquent women, other conferred upon the jurisdiction to commit women to the institution. Both these bills became a law, the second was defeated in the Assembly. The State purchased the home at a cost to the taxpayers of approximately $150,000.

"This institution, I am told, by the State Controller, has never had any inmates, but today and has no prospects of having any. Yet the budget recommends an appropriation of $60,000 for salaries of officers, $30,000 for the support of these nonexistent inmates and $34,000 for repairs and additions for this home, a total of $140,000 worth of attention."

ROBBED BY CUSTOMER

San Pedro Street Drug Store Is Menaced as He Goes Out.

Two armed men entered a drug store at 2300 South San Pedro street last night, held up the proprietor and stole $4 in cash and a gold watch from the cash register.

The two bandits, who walked into the store at 9 p.m. and asked for a package of cigarettes, When Walter Reed, the proprietor, turned to open the cash drawer one of the strangers jabbed a gun into his ribs and commanded him to throw up his hands. While one of the men kept Mr. Reed covered the other rifled the cash drawer. They ran from the store and escaped in an automobile.

Eighteen-Year-Old Miss Resents Quiz About School Neglect.

Because she resented the inquiries of Police Patrolman H. E. Gregg of the Sawtelle division concerning the absence from school of her youthful stepbrother and sister, Miss Nellie Roberts, 18 years of age, knocked the officer down when he called at her home yesterday. She used a straight left to the jaw and then beat him on the head and face with her fists.

Today she will appear in court to answer to a complaint charging her with battery sworn out by the policeman.

Elliott Sued by Dick Ferris on Slander Charge

Dick Ferris, president of the Yellow Taxi Cab Company, yesterday sued Collector of Customs Elliott for $100,000 damages, charging that in the presence of others Mr. Elliott said to the plaintiff, "You are a crook."

Mr. Ferris says he replied: "I am going to make you go into court and prove it, young man."

Mr. Elliott is said to have retorted to this:

"Yes, and I will prove it."

The suit was filed through Attorney W. I. Gilbert.

Those mentioned in the complaint as having heard these asserted remarks are:

H. L. Leavitt, H. M. Lieb, Frank Lotreak, Frank Cullen, R. L. Vickrey, George Mansfield and Walter A. Smith.

SAYS SPOUSE LET BROTHER MISLEAD HER

Young Wife Charges Years of Forced Intimacy; Given Spanking Before Friends.

The marriage of Mrs. Zula Chandler at the age of 14 years, to Leonard J. Chandler, then 32 years old, not only went on the rocks, but at the trial of Mrs. Chandler's divorce suit in Judge Walton J. Wood's court yesterday, brought an admission from the wife that astounded the court and spectators.

Mrs. Chandler is now 24 years old. She charged her husband with cruelty. Under cross-examination by Attorneys Otto and Goodwin, she told a story of purported ill-treatment of herself at the hands of a brother of her husband.

Attorneys for Mr. Chandler asked her if she had not run around with other men. They sought to show that she had gone to dances with other men and had misconducted herself. The long-pent-up misery, which it appeared the young wife had kept locked in her breast, came out with a rush.

She told how, while living in a dugout in Oklahoma, soon after her marriage, the dugout containing herself and husband, the brother and his wife, this brother-in-law made violent love to her.

"I resisted with all my strength," she said, "until I was worn out. The intimacy continued several years. I told my husband, but he did nothing. This man would get me 'in a pinch,' and I was helpless."

Mr. Chandler and his lawyers declared they were taken by surprise by Mrs. Chandler's evidence. The other man sat in the courtroom. He will deny the young wife's charges, if he takes the stand.

Mrs. Chandler related an act of cruelty. She stated that her husband became angry because, while wearing overalls, she washed the dishes. Later she put on her nightie, she said, and in the presence of others, Mr. Chandler raised the nightie and chastised her. She is represented by Attorney George Carter. The case will be continued Monday.

HOTEL MAN DEAD.

PENNIES AND NICKELS FOR HER SUPPORT

Husband Paid Alimony in Queer Way and Put Notes in Every Package.

Oscar A. Eisenhart, a barber, used pennies and nickels to pay his wife, Emma Eisenhart, alimony of $7 a week ordered by the court. The express packages containing the jingling contributions were accompanied by notations from Mr. Eisenhart such as:

"No use for me, but my money." "Hope you enjoy it." "My turn will come next." "I am not through." "My week's profits." "Your work, humming or extortioning."

These notations and a "poem," which Mr. Eisenhart said he found in his wife's mail box, were exhibits at the trial of Mrs. Eisenhart's divorce suit before Judge J. P. Wood yesterday. Mrs. Eisenhart denied having seen the poem, one stanza of which read as follows:

"We watch the seagulls, who never marry,
Gorge themselves with food from the sea."

A postscript to the poem read: "Is it true or only a dream? Tell me in your next."

Mrs. Eisenhart charged her husband with cruelty. Because he choked her she left him, she said, and the court gave her a decree on the ground of desertion due to his conduct.

Finds New Jail Necessity; Sees Women on Floor.

Supervisor Cogswell visited the County Jail yesterday, saw the crowded condition of both the men's and the women's quarters and came to the conclusion that a new jail is imperative. He found women sleeping on the floors. Jailer Gallagher states that there are seventeen women and 375 men in the jail. The normal capacity is 240 men and ten women.

Supervisor Cogswell believes the best plan would be to utilise the new lot adjoining the present building and erect a new jail large enough to accommodate the contemplated increase in prisoners in the years to come.

Supervisor Bean's idea has been to build a new courthouse which will not only house the jail, but the Sheriff's offices, and all the departments of the county government, including the courts.

NEW LIGHT ON MIGHTY ATOM.

Savant Says Few Groups of Him Constitute All.

Ninety-two Solar Systems of Infinite Tininess.

Count Molecules Now Easier Than Human Beings.

This busy, complex little world of ours, commonly said to be so full of a number of things, is in reality, broadly speaking, only ninety-two atomic groups in a constant state of agitation.

This vision from the "fairy tale of science" was partly revealed to an enthusiastic audience of scientists and professional men last night by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, professor of physics at the University of Chicago and director of physical research, California Institute of Technology, in the first part of his two-day lecture on the "Structure of the Atom" at the Polytechnic High School Auditorium. Dr. Millikan's lecture was under the joint auspices of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, American Chemical Society and the Mathematics and Science Association, Los Angeles sections, and will be completed tonight.

Basing his talk on the recent researches in the fields of physics, in which he is one of the world authorities, Dr. Millikan told of the discoveries by Moseley and others which made it possible to "peek in through the knothole in the fence" into the family life of the atom and learn that in its general aspects the characteristic atomic group is a minute replica of the solar system, of which our planet is only a small part.

"It is not the evidence that we can see with the naked eye, but the evidence we can first predict and then confirm by actual experiments, here, there and all over the world, that is the convincing evidence upon which the scientific world is basing its knowledge of the atom and its ever-busy electrons," the speaker told his audience. In spite of the fact that the eighteenth amendment made it less likely for human beings to see double, Dr. Millikan said, human eyes are not to be trusted, but human intellects plus human eyes have been able to learn and record the wonders of science, more strange than fiction.

"We can now tell you exactly how many molecules there are in a given amount a matter," he said. "Let's take a cubic centimeter of air out of this room. We will find that there are 27.5 billion billion molecules in it, and we can count them with more certainty than we can count the population of Los Angeles. We will find tremendous activity there. We will find, after we cruise around a little, a few molecules, a billion or so, of helium, a few hundred billion molecules of argon, some billions of molecules of hydrogen, of carbon dioxide, which, by the way, are rotating and spinning on three different axes, and we may find a few, comparatively speaking, 'hold-over' molecules or atoms of alcohol. This atom of alcohol, by the way, is a very loose-jointed fellow, built up of carbon, oxygen and hydrogen."

The recent discoveries in physics have given the scientist the view of the inside of the atom. The scientist has discovered that the atoms are built up of a nucleus, charged with positive electricity, and of electrons, charged with negative. Starting with the simple hydrogen atom, which has a nucleus of one positive and an electron with one negative charge, the atoms progress to the more complex structures, ending with the uranium, which has a nucleus of ninety-two positive charges and ninety-two electrons, vibrating so fast that they are constantly shaking themselves to pieces and shooting out helium particles that go through glass and aluminum as if there was nothing but a hole to go through. And incidentally, he explained, the ability of these stray electrons to go through glass gives the scientists the chance to measure the relative distances between the nucleus and the electrons in the atoms making up the walls, for it is through the spaces between that the uranium electrons go through and from the nuclei of the glass or aluminum atoms that some rebound to be counted.

The investigations into the inner family life of the atom have given the scientist of today a familiarity with the electrons. By their rate of oscillation the scientists can now "know their voices," Dr. Millikan said, and from the scale thus obtained "we now know that the whole family of atoms are related to each other, from the hydrogen atom to the uranium atom, which, judging from what Dr. Millikan told his audience, amuse themselves by shimmying at the rate of 20,000,000,000 vibrations a second. The vibrations of "C" on the piano are only about 256 a second, by way of comparison.

In his lecture tonight Dr. Millikan will take up the atom in its energy relations and disclose the wonderful possibilities that lie in the way of the scientist of today to learn the secret of the world in which he lives.

Hold-Up Men Take Automobile from Man, Wife.

Two armed men last night held up Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Brainard, of 1109 Ingraham street, and stole their automobile.

Mr. Brainard and his wife were riding north on Norton avenue, near Fifth street, at 8 p.m., when a smaller car overtook them. A youth, armed with a revolver, jumped from the running board of his machine to that of the auto driven by Mr. Brainard and commanded him to stop.

The bandits then instructed Mr. and Mrs. Brainard to leave their automobile and walk down the street without looking around. The victims complied with the order. One of the bandits then drove off in Mr. Brainard's automobile while the other piloted the bandit car.

The hold-up men were described as about 23 years old, armed with revolvers, and clad in dark caps and overcoats.

TWO SENTENCED TO PRISON.

Two men were sentenced to San Quentin prison by Judge Willis yesterday. Otto Kordt, who pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree burglary after entering the house of H. H. Fritz, was sentenced for from one to five years. Frank E. Pittman was sentenced for from one year to life for robbing W. Raymond McDannell on October 15.

MEXICO NEEDS MORE CREDITS.

Merchants En Tour Asked to Aid Trade Relations.

Chamber of Commerce Party Home with the Facts.

Find Traces of Revolution Rapidly Vanishing.

After a ten-day jaunt along the west coast of Mexico, members of the Chamber of Commerce returned to Los Angeles yesterday morning bearing trophies from various towns along their route. The travelers, 102 in number, stated that they found conditions rapidly improving along the Coast and that every vestige of revolution was being wiped out.

The party were the guests of the Chambers of Commerce en route, both in this country and over the line. In Phoenix and Tucson the men were shown the agricultural projects near the cities and at Nogales the trade bodies of both the Mexican and the American sides held a carnival in honor of the visitors.

The travelers then proceeded along the Coast, stopping at important centers and ports. At Culiacan they were given a ball as was done in nearly every Mexican city. A Mexican gunboat took the party for a short cruise, while they were in Guaymas and here they found a German ship that has lain in port, interned, for seven years.

The party turned back at Esculapas, below Mazatlan. Here they found a thick jungle growth, the country being more foreign than any part they had previously visited. All along the west coast they found American money in free circulation.

At Mazatlan, the Americans received what they believe to be the key to the entire situation in Mexico. It was given the Los Angeles fans in the form of an address by Arthur de Cima, general manager and vice-president of the Empresa de Corriente Electrica, the street railway system of Mazatlan. Mr. De Cima stated that while the commercial activities of Mexico have been hampered during recent years because of lack of credit from American commercial houses, not one merchant had been forced into bankruptcy.

In stating the attitude of the Mexican merchants, Mr. De Cima said:

"It is our need that you have the fullest confidence in us, such as Europe has always had. Give us the credit after proper investigation of our mode of doing business and have respect for the ability of our firms and you will reap in abundance the rich fruits of a properly sown seed.

"This is no insinuation that without credit our commerce would find itself paralyzed. It would only be somewhat curtailed with respect to competition with the interior of Mexico, which supplies itself from Europe.

"As business is now conducted with the United States," he continued, "we are remitting our money with our orders, which, if we are lucky, are executed three to six months from the time they are received and arrive at their destination at the end of from eight to nine months from date of order. That would be nothing should we only happen to have one order out, but the case is, that we always have several pending and thousands of dollars thus tied up. We, in our turn, sell these goods with thirty to 120-day credit, tying up our money again for several months more.

"Europe has sold its merchandise to us on open account—giving credits from six to twelve months and even more, charging a very moderate interest on unpaid balances.

"Now gentlemen," he concluded, "if you want to do business with us, study our customs and habits, and above all, let us dispel that everlasting suspicion of each other. Let our sincerity be the foundation of our future and permanent commercial relations. This is the desire of your friends in Mazatlan."

Wife Says Spouse Punched Her, Cut Her Lip, Then Sat on Her Chest.

Mrs. Ella Buehler told Judge Walton J. She asked for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. The court will decide the case after further evidence.

WILL HONOR HEAD OF COLLEGE AT POMONA.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS TO UNITE IN CELEBRATION OF DECENNIAL.

President James Arnold Blaisdell of Pomona College will be honored next Monday and Tuesday by special exercises to be held at the college in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the date on which he became head of the institution.

The decennial celebration, which will be begun Monday with special chapel exercises in the morning and will be enlivened by presentation of a college play in the afternoon, will this year take the place of the annual pilgrimage to Pomona College by the Southern California Congregational Club.

On Tuesday the new Woman's Residence Hall will be dedicated, and if the fund for the erection of the proposed Memorial Training Quarters has been completed, ground-breaking exercises for that building will be held. There will be a morning celebration in the open-air theater, with addresses by President Barrows of the University of California and by George W. Marston of San Diego, president of the board of trustees of Pomona College. In the afternoon there will be a basketball game between Pomona and University of Southern California, and a musical program. The evening will be marked by a faculty banquet and by a second performance of the student play. On Tuesday visitors will picnic in the college grounds and those who bring lunches will be served with coffee, fruit and lemonade.
